Claims Expansion Bid

Red China Rejects U.S. Proposal On Viet Border

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today called U.S. proposals for guarding the South Viet Nam-Cambodia border with United Nations patrols a plot to expand American aggression in Indochina.

"U.S. aggressors must get out of South Viet Nam; they must get out of Indochina," a Peking radio broadcast quoted a Peking People's Daily editorial as saying.

Replying to U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson's declaration May 21 before the U.N. Security Council, the Chinese said: "China absolutely cannot allow the United Nations to be drawn into the situation in Indochina."

The Red Chinese rejection was spelled out in an editorial by "Commentator," an otherwise unidentified but high-ranking official.

Stevenson proposed that the Security Council request Cambodia and South Viet Nam to establish a military force to patrol the frontier which South Vietnamese troops have crossed in recent weeks in pursuit of Communist Viet Cong units. He said this bilateral force should be augmented by, and possibly commanded by U.N. observers.

Alternatively, he suggested formation of an all-U.N. force to which the United States would be willing to contribute.

U.S. advisers contend the Communist Viet Cong openly use Cambodia as sanctuary before and after raids on South Viet Nam.

The editorial broadcast by Peking radio said: "These proposals by Stevenson are becoming increasing blatant. They are designed to draw the United Nations, which is under U.S. control, into territories close to South Viet Nam and Cambodia and thus to draw the U.N. into the contaminated South Vietnamese war."

Nasser Gets Promise Of Soviet Loan

Khrushchev Lists More Aid For Arab Union As Visit Ends

CAIRO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev ended a 17-day visit to Egypt today after warming up the farewell with a promise of a $277 million loan for President Gamal Abdel Nasser's second five-year plan.

In return, Nasser gave Khrushchev a wholehearted endorsement of Soviet foreign policy, including the Kremlin's views on peaceful coexistence.

A joint communique by the two leaders placed the Egyptians squarely behind the Soviets in the struggle between Peking and Moscow for influence in Africa's new nations.

Cheering workers, given a half holiday, jammed the airport for Khrushchev's departure, and upwards of 2,000 troops and security men were on hand. Nasser gave his guest a warm embrace. A 21-gun salute boomed out as the Soviet leader waved before entering his airliner.

The joint communique was made public after a final banquet Sunday night in the gardens of former King Farouk's luxurious Kubbah Palace.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union had decided to help the United Arab Republic with its second economic plan, which begins next year.

GOP Ponders New Statement

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in a copyright statement in today's New York Herald Tribune said the Republican presidential nominee must be a man of firmness—but not impulsiveness — in foreign affairs, and show a willingness to meet "new needs" of the people.

Eisenhower also stressed the "furtherance of civil rights" and "loyal support for the United Nations" in the maintenance of peace.

The former resident declined again to indicate a preference among announced or unannounced candidates for the GOP nomination, saying it is "not my proper role" to name names, and "I do not intend to attempt this."

He added that the Republican nominee should be a man who "will uphold, earnestly, with dedication and conviction, the principles and traditions of our party."

The leading announced candidates for the nomination are Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Others officially in the race are Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota.

Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam; former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton also have been considered high on the list of possible candidates.

Eisenhower said he has urged that Republicans from coast to coast be given a "fair chance to work their will, in careful deliberations, at the national convention — and therefore to make that convention truly representative of the party."

"I hope they will have that chance," he added, "and I earnestly hope the party will select a nominee who skillfully and wholeheartedly would apply to our problems, both domestic and foriegn, those principles which I have noted here."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans gathered here today to complete arrangements for their 1964 convention and pondered whether a new statement by Dwight D. Eisenhower would influence that convention's choice of a presidential nominee.

The former president called Sunday for "responsible, forward looking Republicansim" and a candidate who would carry out that program. But he did not name any names, and he repeated that he does not intend to dictate the convention's choice of a nominee.

The convention arrangements committee's main job today was to pick a slate of officials acceptable to backers of all the major potential nominees.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky a moderate, and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon, generally considered a liberal Republican, were the likely choices for permanent and temporary chairman respectively.

The position of keynote speaker was still up in the air.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the GOP national chairman, has considerable backing for the job, but he said Sunday night that he does not want it.

Tnere also were reports that Hatfield would be proposed for the dual role of temporary chairman, to open the convention, and keynote speaker, to deliver the quadrennial indictment of the opposition party.

Backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., an active candidate for the presidential nomination, indicated they would oppose such a move.

Many committee members were more interested in Eisenhower's statement in a copyright New York Herald Tribune story than in convention arrangements.

The big question was: Had the former president's statement helped or hurt the chances of any ofthe potential nominees?

Miller had no comment.

Robert Roach Claimed After Brief Illness

Robert E. Roach, 56, of New Cumberland, a Hancock County commissioner for two years and former member of the West Virginia House of Delegates, died Saturday at 11:15 a. m. in Weirton General Hospital after a short illness.

A resident of Ridge Ave. in the county seat, Mr. Roach was admitted to the hospital Thursday noon after becoming ill at New Cumberland Junior High School, where he had taught many years. He had been under treatment for gastritis.

In respect to the Democratic commissioner's memory, county officials announced the Courthouse and annex in New Cumberland will be closed until Wednesday morning.

Mr. Roach was elected Clay District commissioner in 1962, succeeding Lyle F. Virden of Pughtown. He was active in many political organizations and and educational groups.

He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Hancock County Children's Home, a member of the Weirton Auto Club, and active in the United Presbyterian Church of New Cumberland, where he taught a Sunday School Class.

He also was financial secretary and a member of the Board of Trustees of the church.

A graduate of New Cumberland High School, he received bachelor's and master's degrees from West Virginia University, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. He taught school 35 years in New Cumberland. He was president

Parade, Program Set

Group Completes Plans For Memorial Day Rites

The Veterans' City Council and co-operating organizations have completed plans for East Liverpool's annual Memorial Day observance Saturday, highlighted by a parade and a program in front of City Hall.

The parade is scheduled to move through the business district at 11 a. m. The program will begin 15 minutes after the parade disbands. In case of rain, it will be held at the VFW Auditorium.

The principal address will be delivered by Atty. Howard Cole of Lisbon, past commander of the Ohio VFW and Post 4111 at Lisbon.

Forming at Bradshaw Ave. and Walnut Sts., the parade will move south on Walnut to E. 5th, west on 5th to Jefferson St., north on Jefferson to W. 6th and east on W. 6th St. to City Hall.

The procession will pause while Mrs. Ruby Roush, president of the East Liverpool Gold Star Mothers, places a memorial wreath at the Honor Roll Board at City Hall. Then it will continue on 6th St. to Walnut St., where it will disband.

Colors will be massed on the front steps of City Hall for the memorial program. Mayor Merrill D. Hall will be master of ceremonies. The program will open with the "Star Spangled Banner" played by the High School Band. Fr. John Cunningham, assistant pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, will give the invocation.

Dennis Smith Jr. will lead the pledge of allegiance. He is commander of Sons of the Legion Squadron 374. Miss Linda Lowers, a High School senior, will

Hundreds Injured

Over 400 Die In Peru Sports Riot, Stampede

PERU CALAMITY. A Lima policeman and his dog stand ready as fellow officers lob tear gas into National Stadium stands to stop enraged fans who chased a soccer referee in a disputed decision. Fans Killed In Rush To Closed Exits

Tear Gas Tossed By Lima Police As Soccer Mob Moves

LIMA, Peru (AP) — An estimated 400 to 500 persons died in a frantic rush to the exits of a Lima sports stadium Sunday after police fired tear gas on rioting soccer fans.

Officials still were counting the dead today after what may have been the worst sports calamity in history.

Hundreds of others were injured in the surge of 45,000 spectators.

The riot started when a fan jumped out of the grandstand to protest a referee's decision in a soccer game between Argentina and Peru.

The teams were contending for the right to represent their countries at the Tokyo Olympic Games.

After 15 minutes in the final period, Argentina scored the first goal. Within minutes of the final gun, the Peruvians sent the ball into the net.

The crowd roared. But the referee refused to allow the score, saying Peru had committed a foul.

Fans screamed in protest. The Peruvian players continued to play, although they also protested the decision.

The clock ticked on. Only moments were left when a spectator jumped out of the lower-priced seats and raced across the grass toward the referee.

Police cornered the fan and dragged him off. Other spectators poured onto the field.

The referee called off the Senate Heads Into Another Debate Week

Rights Leaders Try To Design Package For Final Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate civil rights debate enters its 12th week today with leaders still trying to put across a package of amendments designed to pick up the wavering votes needed for passage.

They presented the package—prepared by Republican and Democratic civil rights forces in consultation with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—at party caucuses last week and found further tinkering is needed.

Republican senators scheduled their fourth conference on the proposed amendments today. Their leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said he expects it to be the last.

Dirksen and assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said they hoped the package could be submitted to the Senate this week as a substitute for the House bill now being debated.

This substitute, they said, could be discussed this week and much of next week before an attempt is made to shut off debate and bring the bill to a vote.

Brake Failure Cited

7 In 2 Cars Hurt In City Collision

Seven members of two families were injured in a spectacular crash Sunday night at 8:09 on a curve on the Lisbon St. Hill, police reported.

A southbound 1955 model four-door sedan driven by Phillip Eugene Smith, 20, of 1424 Dresden Ave. crossed the center line after the brakes failed, striking a northbound 1951 two-door operated by Thomas W. Eberhart, 52, of 8th Ave., LaCroft, police said.

Injured in the Smith car were the driver and his wife, Mrs. Carol Smith, 16. In the Eberhart auto, in addition to the driver, the injured were: Mrs. Gertrude Eberhardt, 41, his wife, and their three children, Thomas Jr., 10 months, Alice, 10, and Mary, 8, officers said.

MRS. SMITH was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with abrasions of the right knee, right abdomen and contusions of the leg.

Smith is in "fairly good" condition. He was treated and released first for contusions of the knees, nose and mouth. He later returned complaining of abdomen and chest pains and was admitted to the hospital.

Mrs. Eberhart was treated for abrasions and contusions of the forehead and both knees. Eberhart suffered contusions of the left forehead and abrasions of the right hand.

ALICE HAD abrasions of the chin and right hand, Mary had contusions of the face and Thomas Jr. was examined and released with no apparent injuries.

Patrolman L. E. Richard, who investigated, said the impact knocked Eberhardt's auto backward about 10 feet, causing it to go over the hillside. But it stopped against a shed after traveling approximately 10 feet down the embankment, he said.

Smith told officers his auto's brakes worked properly on the first turn as he descended the grade, but as he approached the

Flames Level Cattle Barn At County Home

Heavy Winds Whip Flames Enveloping Large Old Building

LISBON — The large cattle barn at the Columbiana County Home on the Hanoverton Rd. near here caught fire and was destroyed shortly before noon today.

The Columbiana County Sheriff's office received the first call at 11:03.

Deputies said four fire units and four cruisers were dispatched to the scene.

Traffic leading into the home was halted so the cars would not hamper the fire-fighters.

The heat from the flames could be felt inside the County Home.

The barn, the newer one on the farm, was completely enveloped in flames by 11:20.

Heavy winds fanned the flames, fortunately blowing away from the home proper most of the time.

Huge billows of smoke filled the sky and could be seen for miles.

Fire units from Lisbon, Guilford Lake, Winona and Hanoverton were rushed to the scene immediately, along with extra tanker trucks operated by the Lisbon Civil Defense unit.

Witnesses said it was not believed anyone was in the barn. It was not known if all the cattle had been removed.

By 11:25, the roof caved in and at 11:30 only a few rafters were left remaining. These fell in a few minutes later.

The building was constructed about 1910.

The fire units were kept busy wetting down the nearby buildings.

County Commissioner Walter Hunston said the loss would be covered by insurance.

Arrangements were made to evacuate the residents, but it appeared it would not be necessary as the wind drove the heat away from the home.

Nurses remained with the residents to calm them.

7th Claimed In Blaze At Church Hall

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A seventh victim died today of burns suffered in a fire that swept the parish hall of All Hallows Catholic Church during a Samoan fire dance Saturday night.

The victims were members of the city's Samoan community.

Seventy - five other persons were badly burned and 12 were said to be still in critical condition today.

One of the three Samoan fire dancers who were performing when the fire broke out said a misunderstanding triggered the blaze and ensuing panic.

David Quiane, for five years a night club fire dancer, told newsmen he intended to borrow a book of matches to light the gasoline-soaked sword he whirls in his act.

A drummer in the band, he said, "whipped out a lighter and set the sword on fire," and a bowl of gasoline ignited with a roar.

Once the blaze had begun an unidentified man sprayed water into the gasoline, witnesses said. The blaze flared up. Members of the Samoan Catholic Benevolent Society rushed for a front exit.

William Murray, fire chief, said there would have been no disaster if the group hadn't panicked. Fleeing men and women, he said, clawed at one another savagely.

Charles R. Broock, 60, a member of the All Hallows Dads' Club, said he grabbed a fire hose from the wall. He, another man and a youth, he said, took the hose to within 15 feet of the fire, when "whooosh!—all hell broke loose."

Hookstown Area Fire Destroys Large Barn

Seven young calves and several pieces of machinery were lost in a fire which destroyed a large barn Sunday afternoon on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McDowell about six miles east of Hookstown on Route 151.

Two large silos and a machinery shed also were lost in the blaze, which was fanned by swift winds. About 30 firemen from the Hookstown, Raccoon Township, Shippingport and Independence departments responded, managing to save a nearby corn crib and a second smaller barn.

No estimate of damage was made. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Urges Strong Stand

Inequality In School Hit By National PTA Leader

CHICAGO (AP)—The national president of the PTA said today time is fast running out for "a just solution to the injustices, inequalities and deprivations suffered by some children because of their race or color."

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins told the annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, "our great organization cannot stand on the sidelines and refuse to be involved. The PTA cannot be a silent spectator."

Mrs. Jenkins added in an interview that she fully expects a resolution calling for a strong PTA stand on segregation to be offered to the convention for a vote on Wednesday.

She said however that the time is not yet ripe for the national congress to merge with the National Congress of Colored Parents and Teachers, which has 300,000 members in 14 states.

Such a merger, Mrs. Jenkins said, would deprive millions of Negro children in the south of PTA services and thus do more harm than good. She said this view is shared by Mrs. Jerome Z. Morris, Montgomery, Ala., president of the Negro group.

"These people are doing such fine work," Mrs. Jenkins said, "but there are many places in the South where they cannot, because of local laws or feelings, second curve they would not slow the car. He said he entered the curve at high speed, causing his car to slide across the center line and hit the Eberhart auto.

RICHARD SAID the brakes on Smith's car were not working properly and the emergency brake had been disconnected. Smith was cited for driving an auto with faulty brakes.

A Beechwood man was injured in another spectacular crash Saturday at 11:50 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. 80 feet east of Sylvan St., officers said.

A 1960 MODEL compact operated by Ralph J. Twyford, 51, of 180 Beechwood St. struck a parked 1956 four-door sedan owned by Harry W. Jackson, 136 Kountz Ave., Wellsville, then bounded across the street and hit a parked 1950 two-door owned by Robert Mattern, 1416 Etruria St., officers said.

Twyford was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with contusions and abrasions of the right knee, abrasions of the forehead and contusions of the right chest.

TWYFORD told police he was headed west about 15 to 20 miles an hour when he was crowded to the right by an oncoming car with bright headlights that was in his lane. He said he hit the Jackson car in the left rear, then his auto bounded across the street and hit the left side of the Mattern auto. The offending car did not stop, Twyford said.

Three more weekend mishaps were reported in which no one was hurt.

A collision at Pennsylvania Ave. and Palissey St. at 9:01 p. m. involved a 1961 model car driven by Kenneth Page, 31, of 965 Ohio Ave. and a 1960 auto operated by Darrell Crimes, 64, of New Brighton R. D. 1.

A mishap on W. 8th St. 50 feet west of Gaston Ave. Sunday at 3:32 p. m. damaged a 1961 sedan driven by Jack J. Pitts, 19, of Route 39, Wellsville, and a 1960 two-door sedan driven by Marion Spires, 45, of Irondale, officers said.

Mrs. JoAnne Roberts, 738 Lincoln Ave., told police the right rear fender and trunk of her 1953 two-door sedan were damaged by a hit-skip car Saturday at 9:40 p. m. while parked at her home. A witness reported the license number of the offending car to Mrs. Roberts.

The right side of a 1964 sedan operated by Jessie V. McCune, 59, of Lisbon St. was damaged in a one-car mishap on Lisbon St. at 6:19 a. m. today.

The woman told officers she was adjusting the front seat whe her car jumped the curb and struck a guard rail and some steps.

game. Police escorted him off the field. The players headed for the dressing rooms.

"They threw seat cushions and bottles and anything else they could lay there hands on," said a witness.

Nothing could stop the mobs dashing in frenzy for the exit gates, still closed because of the sudden end of the game.

Body upon body was crushed and stomped in the dash to escape. Men, women and children died, in the stands and at the exits.

Traffic around the stadium in the center of the city was jammed for hours. Mounted police charged the crowds outside in an effort to keep order.

Hoodlums looted the pockets of some of the victims. They also snatched watches and other valuables.

Under the stadium lights, survivors and police went to the aid of the injured and tried to sort out the piles of dead. The injured were sent to hospitals in ambulances, taxis, and commandeered cars and trucks.

Many persons blamed the police use of tear gas for starting the panic.

Outside the hospitals, mobs assembled, shouting denunciations of the police. "Revenge," they screamed. "Down with the police."

Club Picks Chester Man

Walter Jordan Named To Lions' District Post

Walter L. Jordan of Columbia Dr., Chester, was elected governor of District 29-L of Lions International at the West Virginia Lions Convention at Charleston Sunday.

Jordan, Chester area manager for the Monongahela Power Co., succeeds Orien C. Creek of Belmont. As a district governor, he will have jurisdiction over 44 clubs in 15 counties.

A native of Cairo, W. Va., Jordan, 49, will be installed at the Lions International Convention at Toronto, Canada, July 8-11.

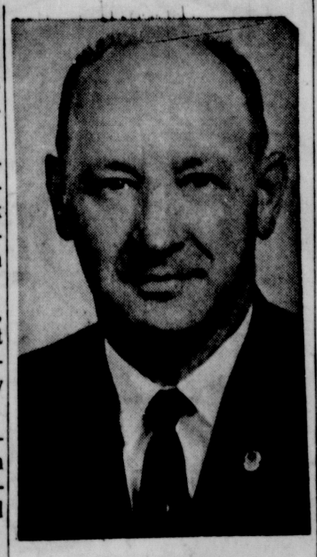

Jordan has served as president of Lions clubs at Grafton and Chester besides holding other posts in the two clubs and on zone and district levels.

He has also been active in Boy Scouts, Future Farmers of America, Red Cross, United Fund and other community activities, including the Citizens Scholarship Foundation.

He is married to the former Mary Margaret Carpenter of Fairmont and has two sons, Edwin Jordan, 21; and David Jordan, 19, and a daughter, Mary Ann Jordan, 15.

Jordan has been with the power utility at Chester six years. Prior to that, he was located in Grafton for seven years and Fairmont for five years.

Jordan became a member of Lions at Grafton, W. Va., in 1950. Since coming to Chester, he has served the club as secretary, first vice-president, president and has headed many of the club's major committees.

W. L. JORDAN
Utility Executive Chosen.

Currently, he is a member of the industrial development and civic improvement committees of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce. He is serving as roundtable commissioner of the Cherokee District of Columbiana Boy Scouts Council, and is the Scout Institutional representative of the Westminster United Presbyterian church.

Jordan also was elected president of the West Virginia Council of Governors of Lions International at Charleston yesterday after the close of the state convention. He succeeds Ulysses Buffington of Clarksburg in the post.

The first meeting of the new council is set for Aug. 2 at Clarksburg.

Jordan named John D. Herron of New Cumberland as deputy district governor at - large and Albert Logston of the Newell club as cabinet secretary - treasurer.

Mrs. Jenkins said that as the schools in the South are integrated, the PTAs are integrated, just as they are in the rest of the nation. There were formerly 27 states with separate Negro PTA organizations. This number has been cut to 14, and Mrs. Jenkins said in a very short time there will be only 11.

In her prepared keynote address today, Mrs. Jenkins said the objectives of the PTA "commit us to caring for all the children, regardless of their race, color, creed of national origin, and regardless of the social or economic status of their parents."

The Pathet LA showed no sign of a retreat. After launching a major drive last week, they have enlarged their territory day by day.

Church Fetes 15 Graduates

Fifteen graduating seniors of the Second Church of Christ in East End were honored at a banquet Saturday night in the fellowship hall.

The banquet was held for the students, all members of the Senior Hi Youth Group, by members of the Junior Hi Youth Group.

Leonard Cole, Sunday School superintendent, served as master of ceremonies and introduced guests. He presented each graduate with a Bible.

The theme was "Peace I Give Thee." The East Liverpool High School colors of blue and white were used in the decorations, along with the "doves of peace."

Miss Arletta Spore sang the "graduate's will" as members of the junior group presented odd gifts to the students. They also were given several other gifts. The prophecy was read by Miss Penney Rogers.

Special entertainment was presented by a quartet composed by Mrs. Bonnie McFarland, Miss Spore, Wayne Berresford and Harry Stewart.

W. Blair Whittington, assistant pastor of the First Christian Church at New Castle, Pa., was the guest speaker.

Women of the church served. Movies were taken. Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Junior Hi sponsors, were in charge.

The U.S. Office of Education reports there were 1,576,000 elementary and secondary school teachers in the U.S. last fall, an increase of 69,000 over the number in 1962.

Zest In The White House

If President Johnson were to make the political grand slam he is dreaming about —a majority in 50 states next November —his polling power would be based on the attribute everybody is taking note of at the end of his first six months in office.

He visibly enjoys being president of the United States. He would never say, as President Truman said while he was on the job, that the presidency is a back-breaker and a man-killer. He would not show, as President Eisenhower often did, that he is bored with the politics of the presidency and wants to be concerned only with the momentous decisions.

He would not reveal what President Kennedy sometimes revealed, that the frustrations of the presidency are wearing down his patience.

Observers are comparing him with Franklin D. Roosevelt, who also had a notable zest for being president. Thanks to his own unprecedented endurance and delight in "making the rounds," Mr. Johnson's zest for the presidency seems likely to create a new precedent.

Ultimately, of course, his service in the presidency will be appraised according to the outcome of the policies he has asserted.

But in short range President Johnson, himself, is being appraised according to the way he has taken over the job. No one ever gave the appearance of relishing it more or performing it with more enthusiasm.

At the end of six months, it's as though the United States already had chosen a chief executive with a grand slam. It's hard to realize the election for the presidency won't be held until next Nov. 3.

A Healer Remembered

The traditional figure of a weary physician, riding in a horse-drawn buggy to a farm house to answer a call in the early morning hours, was long typified by Dr. H. J. Pelley who served the Hanoverton area for many years.

Dr. Pelley, who began treating adults and chilrden and delivering babies around Hanoverton in 1918 and who died last August at 98, is honored by the village with a plaque, dedicated Sunday at the new Memorial Park.

In years to come, many who view the plaque will recall their particular gratitude to this devoted physician; those who did not know him will realize he was respected and loved by his community.

All The Walls Have Ears

Our State Department has posed one of those nagging questions that keep our lives from being complacent: Why the disclosure that more than 40 microphones had been put into the walls of the U. S. embassy in Moscow when Russia remodeled the building more than 12 years ago?

It had been assumed for these last 12 years that Russian workmen had installed listening devices. Russia would not let the United States build its own embassy. It wouldn't even let the United States watch the Russian workmen doing the remodeling. It had aroused suspicion.

Enclosures had been built by U.S. workmen inside the embassy rooms, for confidential conversations. No one ever doubted that the embassy was "bugged." After all, this was the building in which a secret listening device had been found inside the eagle of the U. S. emblem displayed behind the desk of the U. S. ambassador.

Moreover, it has been an article of faith for years that the government of Russia, guided by nothing but rules of expediency — a government devoid of principles and untrammeled by codes of decency and sportsmanship — always would take every possible advantage of another government. U. S. foreign policy is built on that conviction; that the Soviet Union means harm to all other governments.

What's about to pop that made this the time to put Russia on the defensive for routine spying? Are the Russians about to larrup the United States with a disclosure?

Mountains Of Rust

The growing heaps and ranks of junked autos throughout the Tri-State District and nation have been blamed on the declining scrap appetite of the modern steel mill.

The new basic exygen furnaces are able to use only about half of the scrap material which the open hearth consume, for one thing. For another, the scrap which the mills use today has to be "cleaner"—without other minor metals permitted in earlier processes—because finer grades of steel are being produced.

Consequently, scrap prices are down, the cost of preparing scrap is higher, the old cars are piling higher and higher in current junk yards, and more auto graveyards are blossoming across the countryside.

Our planners had better devote some energies to the problems of growing population and more and more cars, else in a few decades we'll be buying a new auto just to take a ride among the sewage disposal plants, cemeteries, land fill sites and mountains of rusty jalopies.

Protecting The Guilty

A federal judge in Philadelphia has ruled that prisoners may not be used in lineups without their consent looks like another victory for the criminals.

Lenient positions by various judges are making the war on crime as frustrating as the war in Viet Nam.

The rights of the individual must be protected. The right to refuse to incriminate one's self by testifying under oath also is understood and respected.

But efforts of law enforcement officials to do their job by interpretation of individual rights under the Constitution are being hamstrung.

If it is unconstitutional to force a prisoner to stand in a line with other men to see if a witness can identify him, it would seem unconstitutional to take a prisoner's fingerprints without his consent.

The more police agencies are permitted to do to make guilty or innocence more definite, the better it is for society.

Lineups, lie tests, blood tests, search, fingerprints and other means of proving or disproving involvement in criminal behavior create hardship only for the guilty.

Standing in a lineup with others to see if a witness can pick out the person suspected of a crime is not unreasonable.

Bloody Beaches

By Truman Twill

Nothing that has been spewed out during the uprising of 20th century youth has scared me like mob battles on Britain's southern beaches.

Here, where the British lion crouched to withstand a German cross-Channel attack that never came in World War II, rival gangs of British boys and girls—the Mods and Rockers—fought each other with fists, knives and clubs.

It scares me.

I can understand why gangs of punks in big cities tie into each other, because they're animals confined in cages. They have nothing else to do but fight each other, nowhere to go but around the block.

Even in small towns where many of us grew up under nearly ideal circumstances there was rivalry between gangs, even between towns. It found an outlet in ball games oftener than it did in brawls, but it was there.

But internecine youth war in Britain is not caused by overcrowding. These young people are roaming the roads on motorcycles and scooters looking for an "enemy." Boys and girls are in the melee together. This is social upheaval.

It scares me.

I CANNOT understand it—and things you can't understand are scariest.

It is natural, I believe, for the young to do battle with the old—one of the immutable patterns of the animal kingdom. Old walruses all know the time will come when young walruses will shove them off the cliff. No matter how well and how long they fight, the old will get licked by the generation behind them.

It is natural for the young to fight among themselves in geographic patterns —east siders vs. west siders, town vs. town, New Town vs. Old Town etc.

But when young men and women take sides on a basis of what they wear, as they are doing today in Britain, how can that be explained? Mods wear exaggerated versions of stylish clothing. Rockers favor boots and leather jackets.

Wild as the males of this new British breed are turning out to be, wilder yet are the females—the "birds." Even in America's "lost generation" after World War I nothing like the "birds" ever was hatched out. "Birds" got their name from the way they look perched on the pillions of motorbikes and scooters.

But they're earning their reputations as practitioners of violence par excellence, and the female always ends up being the deadlier of the species. A wild boy is bad, but a wild girl is horror.

IT SCARES ME. There's a new pattern that I doubt if anyone understands.

We've had a sample of it here, too—conclaves of wild adolescents looking for trouble in Florida at Eastertime and finding it in all graduations of seriousness.

Things have been rough before, but never rougher than this Children's Crusade in reverse. Even an optimist must swallow hard and admit he is stumped when adolescents destroy each other for the hell of it.

It makes that horror movie, "Lord of the Flies," begin to seem like a way of life.

This 'n That

Fire killed approximately 11,800 Americans during 1963, and another 1,800,000 persons involved in fires were severely burned. The value of property destroyed by fire in the U. S. during 1963 reached an all - time high of $1,760 million. About 6,500 of the fire deaths occurred in U. S. homes, and more than a third of these victims were children.

The United Nations officially came into existence on October 24, 1945, and now numbers 111 member nations.

Union Funds Become 'Big Business'

By Victor Riesel

Far more than the trial of grim Jim Hoffa is involved in the trial at Chicago. What is really on trial is the handling of what is becoming the world's biggest business — America's multi - billion dollar employe welfare and pension funds over which the labor movement is developing strong influence.

Victor Riesel

Few realize the vastness of these oceans of liquid cash and the truly gargantuan nature of their investment. The $25 million worth of Teamsters pension money which Hoffa and the other defendants are accused of fraudulently mishandling are proverbial "drops" in the sea.

Private welfare and pension funds now total almost $70 billion. These funds will top $235 billion by 1980. This is the people's money and should be a sacred trust, if you will forgive such old-fashioned sentiments.

MY GOOD FRIEND, Martin E. Segal, the country's ablest scientist in this field, tells me that these pension funds "buy more stocks than investment companies, banks, or individual inventors and are growing at the rate of almost $6 billion a year."

In 1962 employe pension funds enough money into the stock market to buy up 80 per cent of all the new stock issued that year. In addition, they invested enough money in other securities to equal 17 per cent of all the new corporate bonds floated that year.

There are about 32,600 pension plans; 25,000 are controlled entirely by employer trustees. But the rest are either managed by board made up equally of union and management trustees or run directly by the unions themselves. These latter two groups are growing swiftly in cash and influence.

The International Ladies Garment Workers Union, led by the peppery but impeccable David Dubinsky, now has more than a billion dollars in its unimpeachably administered welfare and pension funds.

THE RAILROAD unions have funds reaching upwards of a billion dollars.

Typical of the giantism of this new flow of finances are group policies just "taken out" by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (Cleveland) and the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen (Cedar Rapids, Iowa). These two unions insured their members and their families for a face value of more than half a billion dollars.

The policies cover life, accidental death and health for the actual members and hospital and medical expense benefits for their dependents. The yearly premiums will run close to $30 million.

Small wonder that the AFL-CIO conventions and executive council sessions are now covered by many of the big banks and brokerage houses. During the February mid-winter council meeting at the Americana in Bal Harbour, Fla., representatives of Chase Manhattan and other banks were as much in evidence as bricklayers' officials.

FINANCIAL MEN, by this time, were almost as well known and had little difficulty fraternizing with the labor leaders at the bar or in the lobbies.

One major bank, which always has a "hail fellow well met" chap at labor gatherings now, has more than $300 million worth of labor-management pension funds to place — or about 10 per cent of its investment capital.

Thus, Wall Street and the labor movement overlap. They have to. There are more than $17 billion worth of stocks and $18 billion worth of corporate bonds in the pension fund portfolios. The commissions and profits on these are astronomical.

And the funds must be objectively handled to prevent the tiniest part of them from becoming any one's private cash box. Undue control of any portion means undue power for the unscrupulous. Any ill-advised investments mean a loss for the folks who count on them to ease their way through old age.

THIS MONEY will pay pensions for more than four million retired workers (exclusive of former federal, state and municipal employes) by 1970. Ten years later this figure will grow to 6.5 million older persons who will get more than $8 billion a year from the private retirement funds now building up.

In the coming decades the elderly receiving pensions will total more than 25 million. These pension funds are the "stake out" for their old age.

That's why the trial of men accused of tampering with the future of so many folks is of such vital interest to the entire land.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. K. K. Teal was enrolled as a new member of the Bethia Southwick Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, at the home of Mrs. Frank Hoover of Montgomery Ave.

Miss Mildred Weaver of Pennsylvania Ave. attended the annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at Hot Springs, Ark.

About 1,000 East End school pupils participated in a music festival in the high school auditorium under the direction of B. Paul Obson, supervisor of music in the East End schools.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Lewis E. Stoddard of Ross Meadows was promoted to first lieutenant in the medical administrative corps at Camp Rucker, Ala.

The Rev. Wilson M. Stitt, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, resigned to enter war service work as a YMCA representative with the United Service Organization.

Miss Bernice Wehner of 6th St., Chester, was promoted to Pharmacist's Mate 2C in the Waves at Memphis (Tenn.) Naval Air Base.

TEN YEARS AGO — The honorary degree of doctor of humane letters was conferred on T. Gerald Ryan of St. Clair Ave. at the College of Steubenville.

The Board of Directors of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., elected G. Gordon Strong president of the corporation and William T. Moore as a member of the executive committee.

E. C. Bartley was elected commander of the American Legion Post 374, succeeding Ronald Pederson.

Odd Facts

The first state in the United States to adopt a compulsory school attendance law was Massachusetts, in 1852. In 1864, the District of Columbia followed with such a law, and in 1871 the states of Michigan, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Washington enacted laws for compulsory school attendance.

Although for years apple pie has been touted as the favorite American dessert, it is actually in third place, according to the results of one recent survey. Tops on the dessert hit parade is strawberry shortcake, with banana - cream and lemon - cream being the top pie choices.

America was the world's leading cigarette exporter in 1963, shipping 23.2 billion, valued at over $105 million, compared with $68 million six years ago.

Civil Rights Imbroglio

By David Lawrence

Both Parties Ponder Effect Upon Voters

Many of the present members of Congress who won their seats by a very close margin are getting out their pencils and trying to figure what would happen in the election next November if as little as 5 per cent of the vote deserted them and crossed over to the other party.

David Lawrence

It's a dilemma that faces both Republicans and Democrats.

The Democratic party has 76 seats more than the Republicans in the House of Representatives, and if 36 seats should be lost, control of the House would shift to the Republican party.

In the coming campaign, the civil rights issue is likely to invade both parties. While the election could leave the Democrats in control, it might actually mean in the session beginning next January the loss of a majority behind any further civil rights legislation and a resurgence of an opposition coalition of both parties.

MANY PEOPLE may think the civil rights controversy will be over when the pending bill in the Senate is enacted this year but the fact is large appropriations will be necessary—possibly many hundreds of millions of dollars — to enforce the most far-reaching statutes that will have been passed since prohibition days.

The Republican party faces losses of seats, just as do the Democrats, on the civil rights issue in the coming campaign, because this question cuts both ways.

A Republican, for example, who has voted in the House for the civil rights measure is likely to be opposed in the primaries by someone in his own party attempting to garner the anti-civil rights vote.

THE TECHNIQUE that is expected to develop is a familiar one. Thus, in the case of civil rights, especially in northern and western areas, certain candidates either in the primaries of both parties or in the final election will express approval for the principle of equal rights and equal opportunity. The incumbent member of the house who actually voted for the bill will face opposition because of all the flaws and defects in the legislation itself to which attention will be directed on the stump.

In the matter of public accommodations, for example, a candidate may contend that discrimination should be abolished but he will object to the methods by which the federal government attempts to interfere with the operation of hotels, motels, restaurants, barber shops and other facilities that are covered by the pending bill.

PERHAPS the biggest single issue will arise on the question of hiring employes, or what is known as discrimination in employment practices. In areas where there is a predominance of white voters, fears have already been expressed that whites may lose their jobs because of the pressure placed upon employers to hire Negroes in order to get or retain a government contract.

It's widely reported that mere discussion of this very phase of civil rights legislation has already turned public sentiment in many parts of the country against the pending measure.

The House of Representatives has, of course, already voted on the civil rights legislation, so the roll call of members is a matter of record but an aspirant who tries to take away the seat of an incumbent will find plenty of defects in the legislation itself and will argue that the bill should have been amended in the House.

The inference will be that the candidate making such criticism would have voted for revisions of the bill if he had been a member of the House. The emphasis will be on a change of seats, and the voters who are discontented with respect to various phases of civil rights will be expected to line up either against the Republican or Democrat who actually did vote for the civil rights legislation.

SEN. RICHARD RUSSELL of Georgia said the other day that the Maryland vote revealed a "groundswell among the people of this country," and he predicted that when the people become aware that the government is trying to force social equality, it will be an issue in every congressional race.

There are at least 40 districts in which Democrats won seats in the House in the 1962 election by a vote of 55 per cent or less. These marginal districts are nearly all in the northern or border states.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I have just read the letter written by Mrs. Robert Patterson. It was, as I take it, a slam against those who voted against the two levies asked by the Beaver Local School Board.

What Mrs. Patterson and others do not know about why this levy was not passed is quite a lot. We grant that the Board of Education needs money to operate. But this would not have been the case if the board had used some good down to earth thinking several years ago.

First they did not need a gentleman like Dr. VanHorne to run the schools. It could have secured help from the county superintendent or one of his assistants. This in itself would have saved the school board some great sums of money. If Dr. VanHorne's salary was, let us say $9,000 a year, in the last five years they could have saved $45,000. When I was a member of the same board of education we had quite a lot of obstacles to overcome.

When we needed help we called on the county office and we received help. Mr. McBride and Mr. Ruff could give Beaver Local quite a lot of assistance if approached in a nice way. In this modern world of ours we can not always go it alone. So why can't the local board of education ask for help.

I feel sure if they were to ask for 2½ mill levy the voters of the district would support such a levy. Then at the end of a period of three years ask for another 2½ mills the voters would come to their aid.

But putting a 5-mill on our tax duplicate will no doubt cause a few hardships in our local district. By spreading it out over a longer period, the board would get what it really needs.

To put pressure on the voter such as Dr. VanHorne and the rest of the committee for better schools did was like trying to choke a cat with butter. You can't drive people to tax themselves more than they can stand.

To cut back on the school nurse is just plain foolishness —we need her.

There are other places where cuts could be made. Bus drivers should not be allowed to free transportation to and from work. The teachers, janitors and others find ways to get to school.

The Booster Club, is to be commended for trying to see that sports are carried on, and I for one will give them all the help I can.

In regard to the board slapping the public hands I don't think that it should be taken in that sense.

The board is doing all that it can as a unit. No five men see alike. So it is up to the majority.

If we are going to have better education in Beaver Local, we must get out and support a bond issue in November. But let us do it with dignity, courage, sincerely and religiously, with the welfare of all the children in mind.

I voted against the 7-mill levy and the 5-mill levy, knowing what the outcome would be if it was defeated. But if every citizen and board member will act with common sense and ask for just what is needed, this type of levy will pass.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

As everyone knows, next Saturday is Memorial Day.

I would like to see all Flags up and flying for the late President John F. Kennedy. I think everyone in the world should do this, and I believe everyone will agree with me.

So let us get those Flags up and be counted for him.

Thank you,

President's Daughter Has Summer Position In Sight

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

EYES RIGHT: Luci Baines Johnson has a summer job in sight.

The President's daughter, 16, is going to work three days a week for optometrist Robert A. Kraskin, who has been giving her visual exercises to help her eyes.

Kraskin is enthusiastic about the potential of the new employe.

NIXON: A Washington doctor has come up with the theory that a minor injury to his knee cap may have cost Republican Richard M. Nixon the presidency in 1960.

The idea is advanced by Dr. Frank N. Miller, a George Washington University Medical School pathologist.

Miller's view is that after Nixon hit his knee cap on a car door an infection developed.

Midland School Registration Set

John E. Wilson, elementary principal, said that registration for children planning to attend kindergarten in the Midland Schools next term will be held Friday.

All children must be 5 before Dec. 1, he said. Parents are to present birth and vaccination certificates.

Children whose last names begin with A through M will register in the forenoon from 9 to 11:30 and those with N through Z will register in the afternoon from 1 to 4. Both registrations will be held at the 1st and 7th St. Schools.

Registration for any other children planning to enter Grades 1 through 6 will be held Friday at the 4th St. School.

Painting Classes Slated In Lisbon

LISBON — The outdoor oil painting classes to be taught by Wilbur Chambers will start June 7 and run in a series of six lessons, ending July 19.

The first lesson, at the S. J. Martin Farm on Route 518, will be sketching and may be completed in water color. The hours are from 2 to 5 p. m.

Registration may be made before June 1 with Mrs. Martin, 424-3785, or at Hunters News Stand, 424-5855. The fee is $24.

Chambers, art teacher in the New Castle junior and senior high schools, is a graduate in art of Edinboro State Teachers College with graduate work done at Penn State, Nereon Art Institute in Indianapolis, Ind., the University of Guadalajara, Mexico, and the University of West Indies at Kingston, Jamaica. Two paintings by Chambers are on display at Hunters Store on E. Lincoln Way.

repeat Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Ray Vaughn of American Legion Post 121 at Chester then will present a vocal solo, "God Bless America." Following Cole's address, Vaughn will sing "My Buddy."

The combined posts then will fire a memorial salute and "Taps" will be played by Allen Starkey and Jim Smith, High School seniors. The Rev. Harold Estel of the Oakland Free Methodist Church will give the benediction.

Boy Scouts will stand at attention with the colors. The East Liverpool Area Camp Fire Girls will distribute programs. The Women's Civil Defense Council will maintain a first aid station at City Hall.

The Memorial Week observance opened Sunday when members of veterans' organizations attended services at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Saturday's program will begin at 10 a. m. with the traditional rite on the Chester Bridge in honor of men who lost their lives at sea.

It will be presented by Ladies of the GAR and Navy Mothers, the sponsors, and Gold Star Mothers and the auxiliary of the Marine Corps League. Also participating will be the Rev. John R. Clark of the First Methodist Church, the color guard of American Legion Post 374 and buglers from the High School band.

Veterans' graves in district cemeteries will be decorated by various organizations Saturday morning. The cemeteries and the units which will decorate graves are: Riverview, American Legion Post 4; Spring Grove and St. Aloysius, American Legion Post 374; Columbiana County Memorial Park, VFW Post 66; Calcutta and Longs Run, DAV Chapter, 47, and West End. Mrs. Gertrude Ward of the VFW auxiliary.

Grand marshal of the parade will be Willis O. Hall, past commander of VFW Post 66. The parade committee is comprised of Police Chief Robert Pyle and all commanders, first vice commanders and second vice commanders of participating veterans' groups.

Court Lectures Motorist

Driving Without License, Man Given 30-Day Term

A 21-year-old city motorist was sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail after a stern lecture from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today in Municipal Court.

Frank Hanlon, 112 W. Center Ln., received the jail term and was ordered to pay costs after pleading guilty to a charge of driving without an operator's permit.

He was cited by police Friday night after he bumped a parked auto while attempting to park when he felt himself becoming ill.

"You certainly don't believe in laws; you think laws are made for other people," Judge Chertoff declared, counting 13 appearances Hanlon made in court last year on various charges.

"You know your physical condition and I know your physical condition. You shouldn't drive when subject to seizures. You aren't a fit driver because you can't pass a physical.

"I don't know how I can teach you or how you are going to learn that you can't drive without a license. If I have to keep you in jail, I'm going to do it," Judge Chertoff vowed before pronouncing the sentence.

An elderly city man had his operator's permit suspended for 15 days after pleading guilty to a charge of failing to stop within the assured clear distance. Harry Beegle of Cannons Mills had been cited after a traffic collision on W. 3rd St. Friday night.

Learning that Beegle is nearing his 75th birthday anniversary, the judge commented, "I don't believe you should drive a car." He pointed out that Beegle said he was unable to afford insurance because he is on Social Security.

"I know you didn't do it deliberately, but place yourself in the shoes of the man whose car you hit," Judge Chertoff told the elderly motorist.

Carl Russell Miller of MC 22 was fined $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge filed by the State Highway Patrol alleging he failed "to use ample care and exercise vigilance." He was cited Thursday after an accident on Duncan Ave. while backing from his driveway.

Danny Ralph Cataldo of Lee St. Ext. also was fined $10 and costs on a patrol charge that he failed to yield half the highway to approaching traffic. Cataldo pleaded "no contest." He was cited May 18 on Lee St.

Gary Lee Call, 425 18th St., Wellsville, drew a similar penalty after pleading guilty to a speeding charge filed by the patrol. He was cited Wednesday night for traveling 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7.

Continuances Given 2 For Support Charges

Two men were granted continuances today in Municipal Court on non-support charges.

A hearing for Aaron Fowler, 919 Lisbon St., was continued until June 12 on a charge filed by Cherril K. Fowler, 3 Thompson Pl., alleging he had failed to support three children since March 1. Fowler's bond of $207.50 was continued.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff continued a similar charge against George Welch until June 26. The affidavit was filed by Mrs. Jean Armstrong, 1625 Alpha St., who said he had failed to provide for two children since Jan. 1.

Mr. Roach

of the County Education Association.

In his first political venture, Mr. Roach was elected to the House of Delegates in 1944 and was re-elected for a second two-year term in 1946.

He was born June 20, 1907 in Chester.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Flickner Roach, whom he married Nov. 29, 1929; a son, Robert E. Roach Jr., at home; a sister, Mrs. R. W. (Pearl) Alvis of Sidney; four brothers, Harold Roach of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., John Virgil Roach of Chappaqua, N. Y., Fred Roach of Weirton and Arthur E. Roach of New Cumberland.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the United Presbyterian Church in New Cumberland by the Rev. Grant Lowe pastor, and the Rev. William H. Flurkey of the Christian Church.

Burial will be in Union Cemetery in Pughtown. Friends may call at the funeral home until 1 p. m. Tuesday.

Court Begins Stickup Trial

LISBON — A jury was being selected late this morning in the trial of John Pounds, 33, of Alliance, indicted by the April Grand Jury for the armed robbery of Lippiatt's Linoleum Store, west of Salem on Route 62 last Feb. 27.

The Grand Jury also indicted Sam Miner, 32, of Youngstown, for the same offense. His trial is expected to begin as soon as Pounds' is completed.

Pounds is expected to present an alibi as he was close to his home when he was shot by Alliance police, while allegedly trying to escape after being cited in a stolen truck used in the armed robbery in which over $90 was taken.

Judge Joel H. Sharp is presiding, as he is handling criminal trials in this term of court.

Nebo Grange To Meet

LISBON — Guilford Grange will bring the traveling project to Mt. Nebo Grange for a meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. Carl Bailey, master, will preside. The social committee will be in charge of lunch.

Cigars, Candy Taken In Palestine Burglary

EAST PALESTINE — Barber's Restaurant in the shopping plaza on E. Taggart St. was burglarized sometime between 4 and 6 a. m. today.

The loss was between $2 and $3 worth of cigars and candy bars. The hinge pins were lifted and the door removed to gain entrance. No vandalism occurred.

It was discovered about 6 a.m. by employes. The building had been checked by a merchant policeman at 4 a. m., according to Police Chief Wallace Dillworth.

Profit Trend Still Rises, But Effects Seen Unclear

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Profits still point upward. Early reports on second-quarter operations and reassuring predictions at annual stockholder meetings are in near unanimous agreement on the trend. The dollar volume is rising. This should continue for a while.

But there the unanimity ends. How to interpret profits; even how to figure them: what they should mean to workers, stockholders and customers; how would-be investors should react —there you have a wide choice.

Labor is using the record net earnings after taxes that are being reported or predicted by many companies as a talking point in demanding higher wage scales, and some unions seem likely to get them.

Stockholders dream of higher dividend payments, and the total continues to rise.

The government has suggested that customers might share in the happy event if prices were cut a bit as profits rise. But management usually replies that increasing production costs make that unlikely.

Wall Street eyes rising stock prices to see if they're advancing faster than dividends. This makes returns on investment really less glamorous than they might seem without close inspection.

And corporate treasurers and presidents point out that the announced profit figures themselves can give the wrong impression to the general public, unless they're lined up against all the other changes in the economy.

But the dollar profits are piling up. Much of this is because sales volume and increased production multiply earnings at a fast rate after the break-even point is passed. Part of the fatter net income is due to the lower federal tax on gross corporate earnings. A lot is the result of cost-cutting and labor-saving devices.

Management argues that the profit increase so far is merely a catching up after earlier stagnation. And it says that today's profits are still much too low if industry is to expand and provide all the higher-priced plant and machinery that are called for to bring the economy up to potentiality.

Stores Offer 'Specials' On Some Meats

District markets are offering "specials" on some pork and beef cuts as supplies of the two most popular meats continue steady, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Watkins said the nation's beef output now is at a record level, up 14 per cent from last year. Fresh fish is in light supply and comparatively high in price, while egg prices have declined a little, he added.

Cabbage supplies are increased a bit from the Carolinas and some prices are a little lower. The lettuce picture has improved and some lower retail prices are available.

Green beans continue to be in light supply. Celery, dry and green onions and radishes are somewhat higher in price. Florida has had some problems with cucumber plantings and the potato crop was hurt by rain. All potatoes are steady to higher in price this week.

Good supplies of strawberries are moving in from a number of states — many now coming from areas nearer home. Quality is good and prices are slightly lower. Cool weather, winds and scattered rains again held back the volume from California.

Banana imports are slightly heavier and prices are a bit lower. Lemon prices are a little lower. Supplies of cantaloupe are increasing slowly. Prices are still not in the economical range.

California Valencia oranges continue to be the key orange buy. Sizes are tending toward the small side. Though shipments of pineapple are decreasing, prices are about the same as last week.

Rain has slowed down the volume of watermelon from Florida. There are practically no honeydew melons and grapes available and apples are on the light side.

A very few of the first California Tartarian cherries are appearing in the stores but prices are high.

Frozen peas, green beans and strawberries are being spotlighted in frozen food chests. Though scattered buys may be found on frozen orange juice, general higher prices are expected to hold despite large late season pickings because cold storage stocks are so low.

Frozen orange juice now retails for around 65 percent more than prior to the big freeze in late 1962.

Wright Returned By Beaver GOP

BEAVER — Winning over two opponents, Russell O. Wright of Franklin Township was named to a new term as chairman of the Beaver County Republican Committee at its biennial reorganization Saturday.

Wright received 131 of the 247 ballots cast by committeemen and committeewomen, defeating Edwin S. Rowse Jr., who polled 102, and John G. Good Jr., who received 14. Both Rowse and Good are of Beaver.

Dora Carothers was unopposed for a new term as vice chairman. Goldie B. Everhardt, also unopposed, was named secretary. Russell E. King was returned as treasurer and Harvey R. Robinson was named committee solicitor.

The meeting marked the first time since 1956 the GOP committee has given its chairman a new term. The campaign was marked by bickering between the so-called "old guard" and a younger element led by Good, president of the Beaver County Lincoln Republican Club.

During State Convention

Ethel Wambaugh Gets Office With Ohio BPW

MRS. ETHEL WAMBAUGH
1st Here In State Post.

Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh was elected third vice president of the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the annual state convention Friday through Sunday at the Netherlands-Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati.

It marks the first time an East Liverpool woman has been elected to a state BPW office. About 700 attended the event, including 13 from East Liverpool.

Mrs. Wambaugh has served two years as director of District 8 and two years as state personal development chairman. She has attended 20 state and two national conventions and participated in committees at both.

Locally, she has served as charter president and president during the 20th anniversary year. The other offices she has held are vice president, corresponding secretary, program coordinator and chairman of membership, public affairs, finance, career advancement and radio and news service committees.

Mrs. Wambaugh is currently serving as inter-club relations chairman. In 1959, she was awarded the only honorary membership life membership.

She is an associate member of Eckert Advertising Agency, serving as account executive, marketing counselor and publicity director.

As third vice president of the state unit, her duties will consist of co-ordinating the 15 districts, training and counselling the district directors and directing their activities.

A reception for Mrs. Wambaugh is being planned, with Mrs. Mary McCullough as chairman. The date will be announced.

Jane A. Mosser Becomes Bride Of Eugene W. Bozek

Miss Jane Ann Mosser of Newell became the bride of Seaman 3C Eugene Walter Bozek of Arnold, Pa., in a double-ring ceremony the morning of Saturday, May 16, at 11 o'clock in the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church of Pittsburgh.

Fr. John Cassella officiated at the Nuptial High Mass attended by the immediate families.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mosser, 1004 Grant St., Newell, and her husband is a son of Mrs. Helen Bozek and the late Walter Bozek of Arnold.

She wore a chanel suit of white alencon lace on silk with a double-breasted jacket, and carried a Colonial bouquet of carnations and baby pompons.

MRS. E. W. BOZEK
Wedding Held In Pittsburgh.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Marlene Bozek, was maid of honor, and a cousin, Jerome D. Ziemianski, a serviceman stationed in New Jersey, was best man. The maid of honor wore a mint green cocktail dress of organdy over tafetta.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party and the families attended a luncheon at the Dennis Restaurant in Forrest Hills. The couple honeymooned for a week at Norfolk, Va., and the bride wore a floral dress with white accessories for traveling.

The bride was graduated from Wells High School at Newell in 1960 and from the West Penn Hospital School of Nursing in May 1963. She is employed as a nurse at West Penn.

The bridegroom was graduated from Arnold High School in 1960 and recently re-enlisted in the Navy for another six years. The couple will make their home June 1 in an apartment in Norfolk, where the bridegroom is stationed.

GRADUATION TIME

Traditionally, the boy or girl graduate receives a watch from their parents upon graduation. Formerly, this was often the first piece of jewelry owned by the young person. However, since a watch is a practical necessity from first grade on today, the timepiece given for high school or college graduation may be the second or third in the life of the graduate. In most cases, it is chosen to be the finest in terms of quality that the parents can afford.

Most of us realize the great usefulness of having more than one timepiece to fit various needs. Professional men often have one with certain technical features relating to their work, and another "dress" watch for formal occasions. Women, of course, treat their watches as a fashion accessory, and delight in owning the unusual forms such as watches set in rings, pendants and pins.

In selecting a watch, keep in mind that there are two basic types - - the jeweled and the pin-lever. The jeweled movement is the preferred choice, and the least expensive in the long run, since it may be easily cleaned and repaired over the years. In the pin-lever, small metal pins are used at friction points instead of the harder, synthetic rubies used in the finer movements.

Since your watch is worn every day, and for long hours, this is one piece of jewelry where it does not pay to try and cut corners on quality. Not only will your finer swiss-movement watch keep more accurate time, but it will also look better. You'll find that the finer watch movements are placed in more attractive cases with better watch bands and smarter styling. Come in soon and see some of the fine examples in our stock.

130 In Lisbon Attend Dinner

LISBON — Approximately 130 attended the Lisbon Booster Club's all-sports banquet Saturday night at the Lincoln Elementary School.

Clark Hinkle of Toronto, one of the first 18 players elected to the National Professional Football Hall of Fame at Canton, was guest speaker.

Gary Pike, high school basketball coach for the last several years, thanked the club for its help. Pike will retire as basketball coach at the end of this school term.

Edwin (Buch) Bucher was presented the "Coach of the Year" award voted to him by the Columbiana County coaches last October.

Football letters winners were presented trophies for their 9-1 record. He also advised the group that the 1964 season would be his last as football coach and he expects to retire. He still is recuperating from injuries in an auto accident in which a Lisbon teacher was killed last fall.

Special guests were introduced by Gail (Cappy) Lewis, master of ceremonies. The cafeteria dinner was served by Lincoln School cafeteria workers.

Booster Club members, along with Raymond Glausser, custodian, set up tables and cleaned up after the banquet. Several mothers of Lisbon athletes helped in the serving and made decorations for the tables.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Rita, The Storm, Wins World Acclaim

She's a fresh-faced urchin with a thousand freckles on her mug and her mischievous smile could have been drawn on her by Walt Kelley. Her hair is a nest woven by a tipsy magpie. She stands no higher than your elbow and weighs no more than a carpet sweeper.

Alan Gill

She's 18 years old, shortly will be a millionairess, is named Rita Pavone, and is the rock 'n' roll sensation of Italy, Germany, Spain, Latin America, and, in just five or six minutes, the English-speaking world.

-:-

YOU COULD SEE what I mean a week ago on "The Ed Sullivan Show" when, clad in her usual ensemble of boy's shirt, suspenders, peak cap, trousers and boots, she stomped through her rendition of "Remember Me?" and "Just Once More."

Earlier in the week, she stomped through them for a fellow who'd come knocking at her hotel room door.

It seems her manager, a suave chap named Teddy Reno, had slipped a recording of "Remember Me?" onto the turntable, had turned the volume up to a clangor that threatened to shake the hotel to its foundations, and had bade the little imp to pantomime the number.

RITA unsnagged her booted, trousered and shirt-sleeved joints, stalked to the center of the carpet and, quite suddenly, fell into a paroxysm of waggling shoulders and egg-beating knees.

Her right hand gestured a "Hey, c'mere" with every beat and her right eye, the size of a telephone dial, winked a junior witch's wink. It may not be art, but it sure is show biz.

For a girl who was a simple assistant seamstress (le piccinine, or "very little one") less than two years ago, Rita has come along a bit—from $2 a week to $21,000 a week now.

More than 8 million of her records have been sold. Her first American album, just cut, will be out the first week in June, containing 12 songs in crisp, clean English phonetically learned by Miss Pavone in a mere three days.

THE GREAT Frederico Fellini believes the girl with her expressive face has a great future in films. And Rita herself soon will be talking with some Hollywood fellows about the same subject.

Oh, yes, there's a TV series coming up in Italy in the fall, with Rita playing a small boy named "Giam Burrasca" (John the Storm) dressed in the Fauntleroy garb of 1910 and cavorting about in musical adventures not too dissimilar from the shenanigans of Dennis the Menace.

Other measures of her success? Well, her "Now That You're Gone" has been the No. 1 record in Italy, her "If I Was a Boy" was tops on the German Hit Parade for months, and her records simultaneously have placed first, fourth and sixth in the hearts of the Argentinians.

HER FAN MAIL sometimes mounts literally thousands of mash notes a day. ("Many of them are marriage offers," she said through an interpreter. "There's a duke in Sicily who keeps writing letters proposing marriage, but I've said clearly that I'm not interested. He still writes, but I don't answer.")

She can now afford a wardrobe of 70 suspenders, 70 shirts, 70 trousers and a dozen or so pairs of boots.

Her father, who worked in an auto plant in Turin until all the excitement began, has retired and has just opened a tavern in Rome called the Pavone Bar.

HIGH ON ONE of the hills of Rome, in a suburb called Ariccia, the Pavone family—father, mother, three boys and Rita—is building a rather sumptuous villa, in "English country style."

Best of all, Rita now tools about the country in a midget MG.

"The horn has a stupid klaxon sound," she said, giggling a very young giggle, "the same noise made by the bus going to Rome. Everybody thinks the bus is coming. But then they see it's me and they call, 'Rita! Rita! Rita!' "

Palestine Air Force Cadet Set To Graduate

EAST PALESTINE — Joseph E. Driscoll, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Driscoll, 1040 N. Market St., is a member of the sixth graduating class from the Air Force Academy in Colorado.

He will receive a bachelor of science degree and be commissioned a second lieutenant at ceremonies Wednesday.

He has been assigned to pilot training at Craig Base, Ala. Lt. Driscoll will receive special recognition for his athletic achievement, having won the academy boxing title in the 135-pound class the past term.

Mother Leaves Baby

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Barbara Kudela, 25, of Lorain, was scheduled for arraignment in Municipal Court today on child abandonment charges. She was freed on $500 bond over the weekend after admitting to authorities she left the baby in a chapel at Fairview Park Hospital May 13.

AP Writer Says Sino-Soviet Split Slated To Widen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The split between the Chinese and Soviet Communists is "the most important development of the cold war in the last decade," says William L. Ryan, veteran news analyst for the Associated Press.

Ryan told a group of Ohio newspaper editors Sunday that he cannot see a patch in the Sino-Soviet dispute in the near future. "I think the split will get much deeper," he said.

Ryan, an expert on Communist affairs, made his comments on Southeast Asia at the semi-annual meeting of the Associated Press Society of Ohio, an organization of newspaper members of the wire service cooperative in Ohio.

Other officers elected were: Harry Yockey, editor of the Dover Daily Reporter, vice president; Gene Jordan, city editor of the Columbus Dispatch, treasurer (re-elected); and Alva N. Dopking, chief of the Ohio AP Bureau, secretary. Ralph Holsinger, managing editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, was elected a trustee.

Lake Erie Described As Future 'Dead Sea'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lake Erie is "well on its way to becoming America's dead sea" because of its polluted waters, according to James Quigley of the Health, Education and Welfare Department. "Lake Erie is the shallowest of the Great Lakes and can stand the least abuse of all," Quigley, an assistant secretary, said Sunday on a television program.

Quigley said the government will recommend ways of curing the lake's ills on the basis of a study now being made on lake conditions. Then it would become the responsibility of states bordering Lake Erie and of local communities to join the federal government "to save the dying like," he said.

Widow Claimed

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Mrs Henry Doorly, 79, widow of a former publisher of the Omaha-Herald, died Sunday in Tucson, Ariz. Mrs. Doorly was the daughter of the late U.S. Sen. and Mrs. Gilbert M. Hitchcock, founder of the World-Herald.

Woman, 80, Gets Bachelor Degree From Arizona U.

NEW YOK (AP) — Sometimes, life begins at twice 40.

At 80, Jeannette "Grandma" Rothberger got her bachelor of arts degree Saturday from the University of Arizona.

Mrs. Rothberger had wanted a college degree since 1901, when she landed at Ellis Island from Romania. But she had to drop out twice.

Thirty-four years ago she left college because of a daughter's illness. When she tried again in 1944, a cancer operation forced her out.

Now that she has achieved her goal, she doesn't plan to quit.

"I plan to audit courses, and learn typing, too," she said. For today's celebration she was going to dress up "like Mrs. Astor's plush horse," have dinner, a big birthday cake and some "dancing, too."

$500,000 Fire Chars Cleveland Warehouse

CLEVELAND (AP)—Investigators are still searching for the cause of a fire that did damage estimated in excess of $500,000 at the block and a half long Pennsylvania Railroad Co. warehouse.

The fire began Saturday afternoon in an area where 2,500 rolls of newsprint were stored in the frame-and-brick structure near the downtown area. Two firemen were burned slightly in the blaze, fanned by wind gusts up to 40 miles an hour.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Rita, The Storm, Wins World Acclaim

She's a fresh-faced urchin with a thousand freckles on her mug and her mischievous smile could have been drawn on her by Walt Kelley. Her hair is a nest woven by a tipsy magpie. She stands no higher than your elbow and weighs no more than a carpet sweeper.

Alan Gill

She's 18 years old, shortly will be a millionairess, is named Rita Pavone, and is the rock 'n' roll sensation of Italy, Germany, Spain, Latin America, and, in just five or six minutes, the English-speaking world.

-:-

YOU COULD SEE what I mean a week ago on "The Ed Sullivan Show" when, clad in her usual ensemble of boy's shirt, suspenders, peak cap, trousers and boots, she stomped through her rendition of "Remember Me?" and "Just Once More."

Earlier in the week, she stomped through them for a fellow who'd come knocking at her hotel room door.

It seems her manager, a suave chap named Teddy Reno, had slipped a recording of "Remember Me?" onto the turntable, had turned the volume up to a clangor that threatened to shake the hotel to its foundations, and had bade the little imp to pantomime the number.

RITA unsnagged her booted, trousered and shirt-sleeved joints, stalked to the center of the carpet and, quite suddenly, fell into a paroxysm of waggling shoulders and egg-beating knees.

For a girl who was a simple assistant seamstress (le piccinine, or "very little one") less than two years ago, Rita has come along a bit—from $2 a week to $21,000 a week now.

More than 8 million of her records have been sold. Her first American album, just cut, will be out the first week in June, containing 12 songs in crisp, clean English phonetically learned by Miss Pavone in a mere three days.

THE GREAT Frederico Fellini believes the girl with her expressive face has a great future in films. And Rita herself soon will be talking with some Hollywood fellows about the same subject.

Oh, yes, there's a TV series coming up in Italy in the fall, with Rita playing a small boy named "Giam Burrasca" (John the Storm) dressed in the Fauntleroy garb of 1910 and cavorting about in musical adventures not too dissimilar from the shenanigans of Dennis the Menace.

Other measures of her success? Well, her "Now That You're Gone" has been the No. 1 record in Italy, her "If I Was a Boy" was tops on the German Hit Parade for months, and her records simultaneously have placed first, fourth and sixth in the hearts of the Argentinians.

HER FAN MAIL sometimes mounts literally thousands of mash notes a day. ("Many of them are marriage offers," she said through an interpreter. "There's a duke in Sicily who keeps writing letters proposing marriage, but I've said clearly that I'm not interested. He still writes, but I don't answer.")

She can now afford a wardrobe of 70 suspenders, 70 shirts, 70 trousers and a dozen or so pairs of boots.

Her father, who worked in an auto plant in Turin until all the excitement began, has retired and has just opened a tavern in Rome called the Pavone Bar.

HIGH ON ONE of the hills of Rome, in a suburb called Ariccia, the Pavone family—father, mother, three boys and Rita—is building a rather sumptuous villa, in "English country style."

Best of all, Rita now tools about the country in a midget MG.

"The horn has a stupid klaxon sound," she said, giggling a very young giggle, "the same noise made by the bus going to Rome. Everybody thinks the bus is coming. But then they see it's me and they call, 'Rita! Rita! Rita!' "

Palestine Air Force Cadet Set To Graduate

EAST PALESTINE — Joseph E. Driscoll, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Driscoll, 1040 N. Market St., is a member of the sixth graduating class from the Air Force Academy in Colorado.

He will receive a bachelor of science degree and be commissioned a second lieutenant at ceremonies Wednesday.

He has been assigned to pilot training at Craig Base, Ala. Lt. Driscoll will receive special recognition for his athletic achievement, having won the academy boxing title in the 135-pound class the past term.

Mother Leaves Baby

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Barbara Kudela, 25, of Lorain, was scheduled for arraignment in Municipal Court today on child abandonment charges. She was freed on $500 bond over the weekend after admitting to authorities she left the baby in a chapel at Fairview Park Hospital May 13.

AP Writer Says Sino-Soviet Split Slated To Widen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The split between the Chinese and Soviet Communists is "the most important development of the cold war in the last decade," says William L. Ryan, veteran news analyst for the Associated Press.

Ryan told a group of Ohio newspaper editors Sunday that he cannot see a patch in the Sino-Soviet dispute in the near future. "I think the split will get much deeper," he said.

Ryan, an expert on Communist affairs, made his comments on Southeast Asia at the semi-annual meeting of the Associated Press Society of Ohio, an organization of newspaper members of the wire service cooperative in Ohio.

Other officers elected were: Harry Yockey, editor of the Dover Daily Reporter, vice president; Gene Jordan, city editor of the Columbus Dispatch, treasurer (re-elected); and Alva N. Dopking, chief of the Ohio AP Bureau, secretary. Ralph Holsinger, managing editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, was elected a trustee.

Lake Erie Described As Future 'Dead Sea'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lake Erie is "well on its way to becoming America's dead sea" because of its polluted waters, according to James Quigley of the Health, Education and Welfare Department. "Lake Erie is the shallowest of the Great Lakes and can stand the least abuse of all," Quigley, an assistant secretary, said Sunday on a television program.

Quigley said the government will recommend ways of curing the lake's ills on the basis of a study now being made on lake conditions. Then it would become the responsibility of states bordering Lake Erie and of local communities to join the federal government "to save the dying like," he said.

Autos Hit Head-On

Woman Injured Badly In Mishap

A Lisbon woman was injured seriously and four others were hurt in a two-car head-on crash Saturday at 12:45 p. m. on the Winona - Bridgewater Rd. just over two miles west of Route 9.

It was one of seven accidents investigated over the weekend by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said a car driven by Earl V. Hardy, 71, of North Georgetown collided head - on with another driven by William Horsfall, 28, of Bloomington, Calif. Hardy approached the crest of a hill left of center and struck the other vehicle, officers said.

Joyce Hardy, 16, suffered body bruises and abrasions while her friend, Judy Jackson, 15, of Northwest Canton, suffered lacerations of the face. They were passengers in the Hardy car.

Irene Barnes, 56, of 145 Sherman St., Lisbon, a passenger in the Horsfall car, suffered a possible fracture of the collarbone and right leg and contusions of both arms.

ALL WERE taken to Salem Central Clinic and Alliance City Hospital.

Three were hurt in a one-car crash Saturday at 3:15 p. m. on County Rd. 422 two miles east of Columbiana.

Albert Hornsby, 25, of Main St., Ext., Columbiana, drove off the right side of the highway into a ditch. The car then hit a fence and rolled over onto its side. Hornsby escaped injury, but was cited for speed in excess of road conditions.

Injured were James Hornsby, 6, a fractured right wrist, Lawrence Davis, 16, of Main St. Ext., Columbiana, lacerations of the right forearm and lower arm, and Carl Mumpire, 6, of Columbiana, abrasions of the hips and contusions of the right leg. All were treated at Salem City Hospital.

HARRY F. FRENCH, 59, of 1717 Commerce St., Wellsville, was injured in a one-car crash Sunday at 2:40 a. m. on Route 164 at the Lisbon corporation limits.

Northbound in his 1958 station wagon, French rammed a bridge abutment after striking a sign and utility pole, officers said.

He was taken to Salem City Hospital with a dislocated left hip, fractured nose and lacerations of the nose and right arm.

Mrs. Doris Irene Lauch, 24, of Darlington Rd., Beaver Falls, suffered a whiplash injury of the neck when her husband's car was hit in the rear Sunday at 6:50 p. m. on Route 14 just east of Route 7.

—:—

OFFICERS SAID a car driven by William R. Wilson, 19, of 914 Market St., East Palestine, hit the rear of another driven by William A. Lauch, 25, of Darlington Rd.

Lauch was stopped for traffic. Wilson was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Mrs. Lauch was taken to Salem City Hospital.

Stella Tilch, 35, of New Castle, Pa., escaped injury when her car hit a guardrail and spun into a ditch on Route 7 a mile and a half south of Rogers Sunday at 8:10 a. m. The car nearly was demolished. She told officers she dozed and drove off the highway.

John Laughlin, 18, of Rogers R. D. 1 told officers his car hit the rear of another on Route 7 about two miles north of Rogers at noon Saturday. The drivers exchanged names and continued.

Program Listed In Beaver Local Recognition Fete

The program was announced today for a recognition program for Beaver Local Public School eighth graders Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the High School.

Awards will be presented by C. L. Urbschat, assistant principal of the Public School. Andrew Mellon, president of the Student Council, will distribute Student Council awards.

George VanHorne, executive head of the school system, will introduce Paul Dailey, president of the Board of Education, who will present certificates. The class will be presented by Theodore Taylor, Public School principal, and the acceptance will be made by Franklin Sturgeon, assistant High School principal.

Music will be presented by the Junior High Band, directed by R. H. Sprague. Barbara Lyons and John Weber will give the class prophecy. The invocation will be by Karen Woodburn. Others participating will be Mellon, Gayle McCaskey, Cindy Cairns, Dennis Klembara and William Green.

A reception will be held at the Public School's gym for the students, their parents and the faculty.

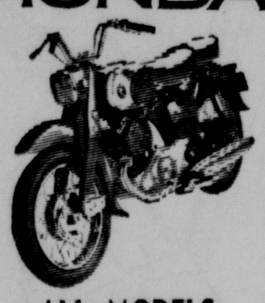

Minor Damage Seen In Lisbon Area Blaze

LISBON — A fire in the barn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Powell on State Route 164, two and a half miles south of Lisbon caused minor damage to a ladder and some straw, according to village firemen.

Charles Powell, 9, went to the barn about noon to get his bike, a short time after his father started the tractor in the barn. He saw the fire in a manger and ran for his mother, who with her son set up a bucket brigade and had the fire out before firemen arrived.

Mrs. Rebecca Davis, grandmother of Mrs. Powell, called the fire department. The only damage was a ladder which leads from the manger to the hayloft.

Autos Hit Head-On

Woman Injured Badly In Mishap

A Lisbon woman was injured seriously and four others were hurt in a two-car head-on crash Saturday at 12:45 p. m. on the Winona - Bridgewater Rd. just over two miles west of Route 9.

It was one of seven accidents investigated over the weekend by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said a car driven by Earl V. Hardy, 71, of North Georgetown collided head - on with another driven by William Horsfall, 28, of Bloomington, Calif. Hardy approached the crest of a hill left of center and struck the other vehicle, officers said.

Joyce Hardy, 16, suffered body bruises and abrasions while her friend, Judy Jackson, 15, of Northwest Canton, suffered lacerations of the face. They were passengers in the Hardy car.

Irene Barnes, 56, of 145 Sherman St., Lisbon, a passenger in the Horsfall car, suffered a possible fracture of the collarbone and right leg and contusions of both arms.

Three were hurt in a one-car crash Saturday at 3:15 p. m. on County Rd. 422 two miles east of Columbiana.

Albert Hornsby, 25, of Main St., Ext., Columbiana, drove off the right side of the highway into a ditch. The car then hit a fence and rolled over onto its side. Hornsby escaped injury, but was cited for speed in excess of road conditions.

Injured were James Hornsby, 6, a fractured right wrist, Lawrence Davis, 16, of Main St. Ext., Columbiana, lacerations of the right forearm and lower arm, and Carl Mumpire, 6, of Columbiana, abrasions of the hips and contusions of the right leg. All were treated at Salem City Hospital.

HARRY F. FRENCH, 59, of 1717 Commerce St., Wellsville, was injured in a one-car crash Sunday at 2:40 a. m. on Route 164 at the Lisbon corporation limits.

Northbound in his 1958 station wagon, French rammed a bridge abutment after striking a sign and utility pole, officers said.

He was taken to Salem City Hospital with a dislocated left hip, fractured nose and lacerations of the nose and right arm.

Mrs. Doris Irene Lauch, 24, of Darlington Rd., Beaver Falls, suffered a whiplash injury of the neck when her husband's car was hit in the rear Sunday at 6:50 p. m. on Route 14 just east of Route 7.

—:—

OFFICERS SAID a car driven by William R. Wilson, 19, of 914 Market St., East Palestine, hit the rear of another driven by William A. Lauch, 25, of Darlington Rd.

Lauch was stopped for traffic. Wilson was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Mrs. Lauch was taken to Salem City Hospital.

Stella Tilch, 35, of New Castle, Pa., escaped injury when her car hit a guardrail and spun into a ditch on Route 7 a mile and a half south of Rogers Sunday at 8:10 a. m. The car nearly was demolished. She told officers she dozed and drove off the highway.

John Laughlin, 18, of Rogers R. D. 1 told officers his car hit the rear of another on Route 7 about two miles north of Rogers at noon Saturday. The drivers exchanged names and continued.

Program Listed In Beaver Local Recognition Fete

The program was announced today for a recognition program for Beaver Local Public School eighth graders Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the High School.

Awards will be presented by C. L. Urbschat, assistant principal of the Public School. Andrew Mellon, president of the Student Council, will distribute Student Council awards.

George VanHorne, executive head of the school system, will introduce Paul Dailey, president of the Board of Education, who will present certificates. The class will be presented by Theodore Taylor, Public School principal, and the acceptance will be made by Franklin Sturgeon, assistant High School principal.

Music will be presented by the Junior High Band, directed by R. H. Sprague. Barbara Lyons and John Weber will give the class prophecy. The invocation will be by Karen Woodburn. Others participating will be Mellon, Gayle McCaskey, Cindy Cairns, Dennis Klembara and William Green.

A reception will be held at the Public School's gym for the students, their parents and the faculty.

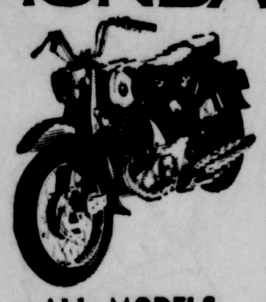

Minor Damage Seen In Lisbon Area Blaze

LISBON — A fire in the barn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Powell on State Route 164, two and a half miles south of Lisbon caused minor damage to a ladder and some straw, according to village firemen.

Charles Powell, 9, went to the barn about noon to get his bike, a short time after his father started the tractor in the barn. He saw the fire in a manger and ran for his mother, who with her son set up a bucket brigade and had the fire out before firemen arrived.

Mrs. Rebecca Davis, grandmother of Mrs. Powell, called the fire department. The only damage was a ladder which leads from the manger to the hayloft.

Torre Sparks Braves Wins; Pirates Spill Giants Twice

★ ★ ★ Pittsburgh Stuns Mays & Co. ★ ★ ★

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Boy, are you fat!" Warren Spahn exclaimed nine years ago when Joe Torre first appeared in a Milwaukee dressing room, accompanied by big brother Frank, then the Braves' regular first baseman.

Spahn didn't get an argument—the younger Torre, at 15, weighed 240 pounds—but today the Braves' pitching ace would be the first to admit that the fattest thing about Joe is his .370 batting average.

On the other hand, if you had asked Bobby Bragan Sunday, after Torre's hitting rampage led the Braves to a 7-4, 10-0 doubleheader sweep of St. Louis, the Milwaukee manager would have told you that Joe is the fattest commodity in the game.

"He's the most valuable piece of baseball property today," Bragan said, following Torre's 7-for-10 spree that lifted him from seventh to third position in the National League batting derby. "I wouldn't trade him for anybody, not even Willie Mays, because I'd be giving up eight years."

Torre's current streak lends weight to Bragan's claim. The catcher-first baseman, whose three-week spring holdout led both leagues, has hit at a .418 clip since May 1, raising his average 79 points from .291. He hit his fifth and sixth home runs of the month Sunday for a total of 9—five less than his 1963 output.

While Milwaukee closed to within 1½ games of the NL lead, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati kept pace with double victories. The Pirates stunned San Francisco 3-0 and 5-3; the Reds downed Chicago 6-5 and 12-4. Los Angeles employed Sandy Koufax in relief to nail down a 3-0 victory over Philadelphia and Houston blanked New York 5-0 in a night game.

Torre singled four times in the Braves' first-game victory, credited to Spahn, and drove in two runs. His two homers and a single — good for three more RBI — Backed Denny Lemaster's three-hit pitching in the nightcap.

The Brooklyn native has 54 hits, second in the league, and is third in RBI.

The Review Sports
MONDAY, MAY 25, 1964 PAGE 16

Pittsburgh southpaw Bob Veale stopped San Francisco on two hits and fanned seven Giants in the opener for his fourth victory. Rookie right-hander Tom Butters drove in three Pirate runs in the second game and recorded his first major league victory with help from relievers Bob Priddy and Al McBean.

Mays had one hit in five at-bats and his batting average fell from .400 to .393.

Chicago's Billy Williams regained the top spot, going 3-for-6 to climb from .394 to .398, but the Cubs succumbed to Bill Henry's clutch relief pitching in the opener and an eight-run Cincinnati inning in the finale.

Henry halted Chicago's two-run ninth inning rally to save the victory for Jim O'Toole. Tommy Harper and Vada Pinson each hit safely twice in the Reds' third inning second-game outburst.

Koufax, making his first relief appearance since 1962, quelled a Philadelphia threat in the seventh inning and the Dodgers whipped the Phillies for the first time in seven meetings.

Joe Moeller, the winner, allowed only one hit through the first six innings but faltered in the seventh when Johnny Callison led off with a single and Wes Covington followed with a double. Koufax retired the next three batters and gave up one hit the rest of the way.

Rookie Wes Parker cracked two doubles and a triple to pace the Dodgers' attack.

Houston right-hander Bob Bruce ran his record to 6-1, firing a four-hitter and striking out 10 Mets. Mike White drove in three runs with a first inning single and a double in the seventh.

Stuart Wins 2 For Red Sox, But Bat Nearly Loses Game

Gentile Hits Homer With Dick's Club

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Stuart, whose glove sometimes beats Boston, now has come close to whipping the Red Sox with his bat.

The Boston slugger's bat put Kansas City ahead with a home run in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday.

Then Stuart clouted a grand slam home run for a 6-2 victory. He came back with a two-run homer that gave Boston a 3-1 triumph in the second game.

The home run that put the Athletics into a 2-1 lead actually was hit by Jim Gentile, who had borrowed one of Stuart's bats.

The big first baseman's grand slam off Moe Drabowsky in the eighth inning broke a 2-2 tie. It was his first homer since April 28 when he also smashed a grand slam. He also connected with a man aboard in the fourth inning of the nightcap, giving him four this season.

Stuart's average is only .230, but he has 28 runs batted in, third best in the American League. Last year he hit 42 homers and drove in 118 runs.

Of five scheduled doubleheaders in the AL, Baltimore had the only other sweep, beating Minnesota 2-0 and 7-6. Chicago downed Washington, then lost 3-0 while New York defeated Los Angeles 8-5 after dropping a 3-0 decision. Detroit got by Cleveland 7-5. Rain washed out the second game.

Stuart's blast in the opener enabled Jack Lamabe, who came to Boston from Pittsburgh with the first baseman, to win his fifth game in six decisions. Rookie Ed Connolly won his first major league game in the nightcap with relief help from Bob Heffner and Dick Radatz.

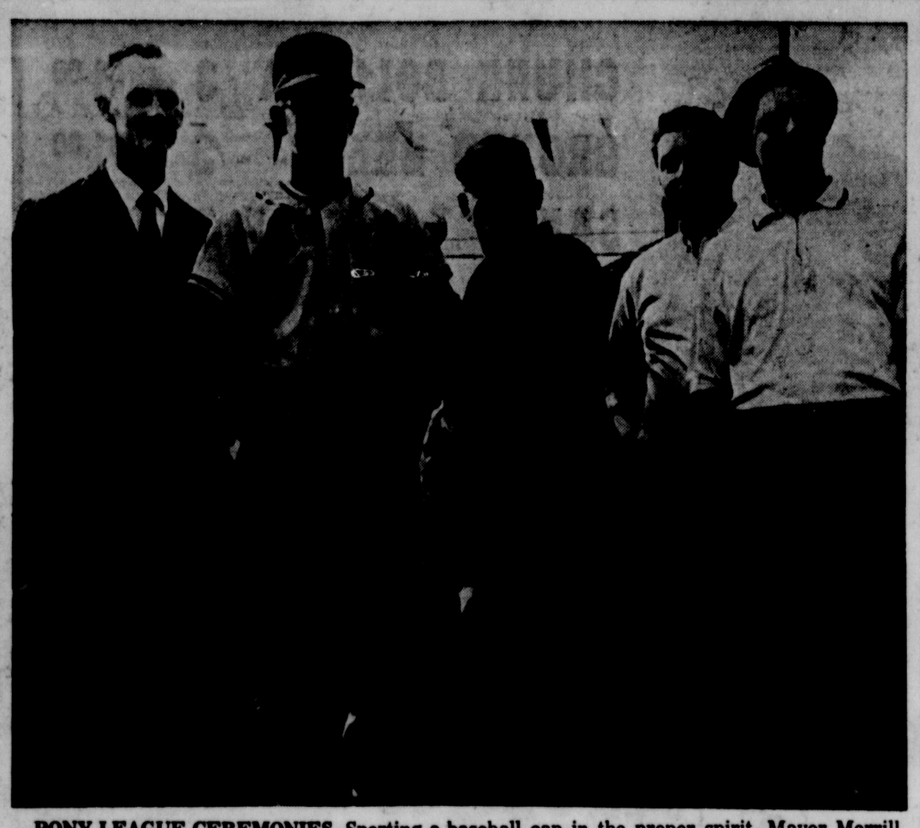

The Orioles were on the verge of losing the second game when they struck for three runs in the ninth. Jerry Adair's homer, a walk, an infield hit and an error brought home the tying runs. Then Luis Aparicio knocked in Jackie Brandt with a sacrifice fly.

Harmon Killebrew socked a two-run homer for the Twins in the eighth, tying the game 4-4, and Tony Oliva connected with one on in the ninth.

Robin Roberts set down the Twins on five hits in the opener, reducing his earned run average to 1.88 on a 2-2 record.

The White Sox had a five-game winning streak until Buster Narum limited them to six hits in the second game. The Senators gave him two runs in the first on singles by Don Blasingame, John Kennedy and Chuck Hinton and Don Lock's sacrifice fly.

Pinch hitter Floyd Robinson doubled with the bases loaded in the eighth, driving in two runs and bringing the White Sox from behind in the opener.

South Siders Win Big In Colt Loop

The Colt League launched its third season in East Liverpool Sunday with three games, and a new entry — South Side A. C. —picked up the most decisive triumph.

Bill Wright hurled the South Siders to a 7-3 victory over Central Service, recording a two-hitter in his debut.

The other two games were close, and in one Mike Silliman's strong bid for a one-hitter was thwarted by an injury.

Silliman, who hurls for Riverview Florists, was in command of a 1-0 lead and had allowed only one hit to the Realtors before he was shelved by an injured finger in the fifth inning. The Realtors came on to score a 2-1 victory.

In a game that was halted after four and one - half innings because of rain, the Dentists edged defending champion Lawyers, 2-1 with Lawrence getting credit for a four hitter. Talbott speared a line drive in left field to save the game for the Dentists.

Weirton Bowlers Take Top Scores In Legion Event

WEIRTON (AP) — Weirton bowlers dominated the West Virginia American Legion Bowling Tournament which ended a two weekend stand here Sunday.

The top spot in the singles division went to Bud Jones of Weirton with a 654 score. He was followed by two other Weirton keglers — George Babsina with 649 and Eli Matijevich with 643.

First in the doubles were H. Feaster and H. Adams of Elkins Post 29 with 1,256. Second in doubles were Ken Norman and Dino Belli of Weirton with 1,254.

In the all-events section A. Martin of Fairmont Post 17 and Robert Roch of Weirton tied for first with 1,924 each. Next was S. Bowman of Weirton with 1,864 pins.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING—Dick Stuart hit his second grand slam homer of the season, giving the Red Sox a 6-2 victory over Kansas City in the opener of a doubleheader and his two-run homer in the second game brought Boston a 3-1 triumph.

PITCHING—Bob Veale hurled a two-hitter as Pittsburgh shut out San Francisco 3-0 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Locals Beaten On Two-Hitter

Beaver Falls slammed 14 hits off three pitchers to roll over Friendly Bowling - Merchants of East Liverpool, 11-1, in Beaver County League play Sunday at the wind-swept field in Beaver Falls.

Manager John Andrason's locals were allowed only two hits by Keister of Beaver Falls, one by Murowski and another by Agnew. But Agnew's was a homer, accounting for the solo run of East Liverpool, now 1-3 for the season.

Keister went the distance, giving up one run on two hits and fanning 13 batters. Nolan, Shanks and Murowski hurled for Friendly Bowling, and Nolan was the loser.

East Liverpool will play two home games this week at Patterson Field — New Brighton on Wednesday and Aliquippa on Friday.

Souchak Attacks Par 5's For Wins

By VAN SAVELL
Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS (AP)—When Mike Souchak enters a golf tournament he figures to win if he attacks the par 5 holes and does well.

The former Duke Football player fired a 69 Sunday and slipped past three other golfers for a one-stroke victory in the $50,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament with a 10-under-par 270 total.

Souchak noted his four rounds over the Colonial Country Club course and his performances on the par 5 holes, 13, 16 and 18. He birdied each of those four times except No. 16 the first round.

"I think that's what it takes to win—attack the par 5s, do well and take home first place money."

Souchak clinched his victory, and $7,500, with a birdie putt on the final hole from four feet after an exploding sand shot hit only three inches from the pin and rolled past.

Billy Casper and Tommy Jacobs came in second with 271. Six golfers—Bob Rosburg, Art Wall Jr., Mason Rudolph, Gene Littler, Doug Sanders and Gay Brewer — were tied for fourth with 272.

Going into the 18th hole, Littler, Casper and Jacobs were tied with Souchak with nine under par. Each had birdies on the par 5 No. 16 and pars on the short 17th hole. Little bogied 18 after having fairway trouble and Jacobs and Casper barely missed long birdie putts.

Wellsville Splits In Double Header

Wellsville gained a split in a double header with Kilgore in the Tri - County League Sunday at Wellsville, with the first game decided in the 10th inning.

In the opener, Wellsville plated three runs in the 10th to break a 1-1 tie. Butch Cunningham, who relieved Denny Elliott in the third, picked up the mound win. Willis Murray caught.

Kilgore came back to post an 8-5 win in the second, scoring two runs in the first and six in the fifth frame. Red Hanlon, who started and gave way to McGaffick and Roger Ours in the fifth, was the loser. B. Fawcett was the winner.

Wellsville visits Irondale Wednesday night.

Wallace Stages 1-Man Show At Ohio Track Fete

Swift Jimmy Ward of Columbiana High School led the Clippers to a close third in the Ohio scholastic Class AA track and field championships Saturday in Columbus with dazzling performances in the sprints.

Dueling with Dayton Dunbar speedster Craig Wallace, the Columbiana youngster won the 440-yard dash and came home second to the Dunbar star in two other events.

Wallace won the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the broad jump to become the first performer to win the "crown" since Barberton's Olympic standout Glen Davis did it 10 years ago.

In the 100 yard dash, the Dunbar star was clocked in a national record 9.4 seconds, matching the 1933 record of Jesse Owens. But it was not allowed due to an eight - mile per hour wind.

Ward flashed to the wire in 9.6 seconds in the 100, a step behind Wallace. He won the 440 yard dash in 48.3, and finished second in the 220 yard dash in 21.6, won by Wallace in 21.4.

Fred Gosney of Columbiana finished fifth in the 180-yard low hurdles in 20.3, and Columbiana finished third in the meet with 15 points.

East Liverpool's Curt Battistelli, district 880 yard run champion, failed to qualify for the state finals. However, Battistelli ran his heat in 2:00.2, three-tenths second better than the record he established in the district. He finished sixth in his heat.

Also failing to qualify were Warren Bradley of Beaver Local in the hurdles, and Salem's mile relay team and a mile runner.

After the sprinting, slugging, driving and serving was completed at Ohio State University mammoth athletic plant Saturday, these winners were crowned state champions:

—Dayton Dunbar, Class AA track-field champion.

—Fairport Harbor, Class A track-field champion.

—Mike Thomas of Fairport Harbor, outstanding individual Class A track-field performer.

—Lima Senior, Class AA baseball champion.

—Baltimore Liberty - Union, Class A baseball champion.

—Barberton Norton, team golf champion.

—Ross Bartschy Jr. of Upper Arlington, golf individual champion.

—Paul Mitchell and Mike Jeffries of Worthington, doubles tennis champions.

—Bazzie Pierce of Dayton Oakwood, singles tennis champion.

Wallace was a one-man show in the 57th annual track meet. He scored all 18 of Dunbar's points by winning three events —the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the broad jump.

His performance gave Dunbar its second straight championship. One point behind with 17 was Cleveland Glenville, winner of the 880-yard relay.

John Linta of Mansfield Malabar smashed the state high school pole vault record with a leap of 14 feet, 5½ inches. The old record, shared by Linta and Jim Showers of Marion Harding, was 13-10¼.

Mike Thomas, sparked Fairport Harbor to its Class A crown with victories in the high and low hurdles. Fairport Harbor won with 21 points, far ahead of defending champion Cincinnati DePorres and Batavia with 12.

Other records included:

Class AA: Tom Gibson, Cleveland St. Joseph, shotput, 60 feet, 7¾ inches; Rickey Poole, Dayton Jefferson, mile, 4:19.6, and half-mile 1:56.9.

Class A: Lynn Beck, Batavia, high jump, 6 feet, 4 inches.

In baseball, Lima Senior won its Class AA title with a 7-6 victory over Cleveland Benedictine. Liberty Union took the Class A laurels with a 1-0 shut out of North Central of Williams County.

Barberton Norton captured the team golf crown by scoring 635 points, two ahead of Troy with 633. Defending champion Kettering Fairmont was third with 638.

Bartschy's 72-73—145 earned him the individual golf title, four better than runner-up Bob Viets with 72-77—149.

In tennis, Mitchell and Jeffries won the doubles trophy by defeating Corky Leighton and Chuck Parsons of Springfield North, 6-4, 6-4. Pierce took the singles crown by turning back Randy Wertz of Toledo DeVilbiss, 8-6, 6-4.

Paschal Wins World 600; Roberts Injured

Roberts, biggest career money winner in NASCAR history, remained in critical condition early today. He had third-degree burns over most of his body.

Paschal, 38 and a 17-year racing veteran, breezed to his first major victory and $24,555 after the other contenders were eliminated by wrecks or mechanical difficulties.

Ralph Boston Takes Aim On World Jump Record

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MODESTO, Calif. (AP) — Ralph Boston serves notice he wants the world broad jump record back from Russia's Igor Ter - Ovanesyan this Olympic year.

In the 23rd renewal of the California Relays Saturday night, Boston smashed his own American mark and came within three-quarters of an inch of taking back the world mark.

The former Tennessee A&I star now competing for the Southern California Striders leaped 27 feet 2½ inches with a six-jump average of 26 feet 8¼ inches — the average equaling the best jump even by Jesse Owens.

Boston, named the outstanding athlete in the meet, wasn't overjoyed as he explained, "I fell short of what I expected to do. I was aiming to get my world record back."

Boston was the first man ever to jump 27 feet and held the world record at 27-1¾ until the Russian went 27-3¼. However, Ter-Ovanesyan never has beaten the U.S. Olympic champion in head and head competition.

Clark Takes 'Grand Prix'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—If Scot Jimmy Clark dominates the 48th Indianapolis 500-mile Auto Race Saturday as he did the 10-mile time trials, he will start lapping the field about 15 minutes after the start.

While Clark was winning the Dutch Grand Prix Sunday in a campaign to repeat as world road racing champion, the fourth and final session of qualifications was run off at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway's 2½-mile oval. It mostly was an exercise in futility.

Irondale Wins, 10-9

IRONDALE — Rallying for four runs in the ninth inning, Irondale gained a 10-9 decision over Columbiana for its third straight victory in Tri-County League play here Sunday. Crit Smallwood picked up the victory in relief of Joe Urich. Bob Call started. Urich and Warden had four hits for Irondale, while Wickham had three. The locals host Wellsville Wednesday night.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Sometimes I think you print things just to get a rise out of people. Right now I'm so burned up I can hardly see this paper. You told a grandmother who said she enjoyed every minute of raising her four children that she had a very poor memory.

Are you a mind reader? Maybe she DID enjoy every minute of it. Where do you get off telling her she didn't?

We have four children and the fifth is expected any day. I can't wait till that baby gets here. Our youngest is a 2-year-old little lady and it will be wonderful to have an infant in the house again.

Each stage of raising children is fun and every child is different. I have enjoyed every minute of being a parent and now you can call me a liar, too. —DAVENPORT DAD.

Dear Dad! Well, I admit you had me fooled for a minute. Your testimonial for motherhood is the first I've ever received from a father.

How marvelous that you have enjoyed every minute of being a parent! And now, may I hear from your wife?

No Ringer

Dear Ann: Larry and I are going to be married in September. I want him to wear a wedding ring because my Dad always wore one and I love the way a wedding ring looks on a man's hand.

Larry does not want to wear a wedding ring. He says it means nothing. Furthermore, he insists that down at the office where he works the men who wear wedding rings, run around the most and act the least married.

Larry has observed, too, that the women around the office think wedding rings on men are sexy and challenging. They actually pick these men as targets.

I don't want to make a big flap over this but we both would like your views. Why do YOU think some men wear wedding rings?—24-CARAT QUESTION.

Dear 24 Carat: I believe the men who wear wedding rings do so because their wives want them to.

Unless this means a great deal to you, give up, honey. It's apparent your guy will continue to fight it.

Two-Time Loser

Dear Ann: From time to time you have had letters in your column from kids who are disgusted because they work hard at their studies and don't do as well as the kids who cheat.

In our school the kids don't have to cheat to get good grades. All they have to do is butter up the teachers. I know three girls who don't know an isosceles triangle from a dunce cap but they get "B's" because the teacher can put his arms around them while he is explaining things.

The Spanish teacher is an old maid with a weakness for football players. One kid whose Spanish vocabulary consists of "Si Si, Senor" told me he is going to get a "C" for the semester. He was out of town with the team when they took finals last semester so the teacher gave him an oral quiz and he made a "B."

I wish you'd print this letter and some advice to a hard-working student who wonders if it's worth it.—GIBRALTA.

Dear Gibraltar: A pleasant personality is an effective lubricant for the machinery of human relations, not only in school but elsewhere. There is no substitute, however, for perspiration combined with a little midnight oil.

You sound like a kid who can't make it either way. I suggest you smile a little more — both at the teachers and the textbooks.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Party Staged For Graduate

Mr. and Mrs. John Dallas entertained friends and relatives Friday night at their home on Chestnut Grove Ridge, Hammondsville, in an after-graduation party honoring their daughter, Linda, a member of the Class of 1964 at Stanton Local High School.

A large cake decorated in a graduation theme was served. Among the guests were their daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huyghe of Niles, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dallas of North Canton and the Rev. James McCollam and daughter, Lois. Other guests were from Salineville, Hammondsville and Chestnut Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Householder entertained a group of friends Thursday evening with an outdoor picnic supper at the Householder home, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Don McBride. McBride is former coach at Stanton Local and moved Saturday to Carrollton, where he will be in charge of the coaching staff.

Lawrence Sprouse Jr. of Chestnut Grove Ridge has returned from City Hospital, where he was a patient with injuries suffered in a recent traffic mishap.

Harold Householder of Pine Grove Ridge is a patient in City Hospital. His sister, Mrs. Dan Grafton of Windham, is a patient in Robinson Memorial Hospital in Ravenna.

Members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Smolinsky attending the graduation of their brother, Willard Smolinsky, Friday night at Stanton Local High School were: Nancy Smolinsky of Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith of Wellsville and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barber and son, Tommy, of Chester.

Testimonial Dinner Honors Pastor At Midland And Wife

The Very Rev. Milorad Dobrota, pastor of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church Midland, and his wife were honored at a testimonial dinner Sunday afternoon, observing their birthday anniversaries, the 25th year of his priesthood and their silver wedding anniversary.

The event, which was held in the Serbian National Home, attracted about 200.

The affair was in conjunction with the annual convention of CEOLYA—Council of Eastern Orthodox Youth Leaders of America — held Friday through Sunday. The Midland church and the Dr. Laza Kostich Choir were host to the convention. Meetings were held at The Willows Motel in Industry, and the Serbian National Home.

Guest speaker at the dinner was Bishop Stefan of Clairton, Pa., who also conducted the weekend meetings. A representative of CEOLYA also spoke.

Remarks were made by Burgess Eli Corak, Lloyd Murphy, a representative of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., and Fr. Vlastimir Tomich, pastor of the St. Elijah Serbian Orthodox Church of Aliquippa.

Special guests Fr. and Mrs. Dobrota were Dr. and Mrs. Constantine Mourat of Midland and Dr. and Mrs. James Weyand, Beaver. Montgomery Popovich, Sunday School teacher at the Midland church, was master of ceremonies.

Gifts were presented to Fr. and Mrs. Dobrota by Michael Raich, president of the congregation; Mrs. Nick Tepavich, president of the Circle of Serbian Sisters, Nick Bomestar, president of the Dr. Laza Kostich Choir, and Mrs. Dorothy Dragovich, president of the Mothers Club of the church.

The Junior Choir and the Junior Tamburitzans, who provided the music, also presented the honored guests with gifts. A selection also was sung by the Dr. Laza Kostich Choir.

700 Hear Speech At Baccalaureate Rite In Wellsville

The Rev. Bruce Davis of the Covenant United Presbyterian Church delivered the sermon. His topic was "Crossroads."

He said the youth will have to choose between the "right and wrong road" to travel. He told the youths they would have to make decisions all their lives.

William Menough, high school principal, will present the class. Russell Dysert, Board of Education president, will present the diplomas.

Supt. Lowell Myers will preside.

Rockefeller Backed

Today In History

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1787, the first session of the Constitutional Convention was held in Philadelphia, ostensibly to amend the old Articles of Confederation. As it turned out, however, the convention framed the Constitution we have today.

On this date

In 1803, poet, essayist and philosopher Ralph Waldo Emerson was born in Boston.

In 1862, Confederate Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson defeated Union forces at Winchester, Va.

In 1942, Gen. Joseph W. (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell arrived in New Delhi, India, after his epic retreat from Burma.

Ten years ago—A bomb, presumably intended for Gen. Augustin Guillaume, retiring resident general in French Morocco, exploded in Marrakesh just after his car had passed.

Five years ago—A United Nations world economic survey indicated the economies of Communist nations were growing at a more rapid rate than those of the free world.

One year ago—30 independent African states formed the Organization of African Unity at a conference in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

VonBraun Gives U.S. 50-50 Odds On 1970 Moon Landing

Today In Washington
By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

MOON FLIGHT: The United States has a better than 50-50 chance of landing a man on the moon by 1970, Dr. Wernher von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., said today.

In a copyright interview in U.S. News and World Report, Von Braun said: "We cannot be absolutely certain, because any critical setback may, of course, still deny us success in time. But I would say, if you asked me for a personal opinion, that we have a better than 50 per cent chance of being on the moon before the decade is out."

BANK INSURANCE: Chairman Wright Patman, of the House Banking Committee, says the American Bankers Association is "deliberately falsifying the facts" in its opposition to an increase from $10,000 to $20,000 in federal insurance on bank deposits.

The Texas Democrat is sponsor of the measure which is scheduled for House action on Wednesday.

Goldwater Urges Atomic Weapons For Viet Fighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says low-yield atomic weapons could be used to burn jungle foliage and expose Communist supply lines along South Viet Nam's border.

The Arizona senator was asked Sunday on the ABC radio and television program "Issues and Answers" how jungle trails which can't be spotted from the air should be handled in the U.S.-supported war.

In the interview, Goldwater urged the bombing with conventional weapons of bridges, roads and railroads used to bring supplies from Red China and North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam unless the Communists halted the military shipments.

The senator also indicated he would favor bombing supply routes inside Red China. "You might have to," he said, or the war will drag on and on.

Bible Club Wins Prize At County Youth Rally

The East Liverpool High School Bible Club won the school award at the Columbiana County Youth-for-Christ rally Saturday night at Westgate Junior High School auditorium, when awards night was featured. About 120 attended.

The church trophy went to the Irondale Methodist Church. The trophies were presented by the Rev. Paul Zaperach, director.

Police Probe Theft Series

East Liverpool police today are continuing investigation of a series of minor weekend thefts, along with two cases of vandalism.

Charles Shapiro told officers intruders entered a garage at 535 Mulberry St. sometime between 5 p. m. Friday and 9 a.m. Saturday, breaking open 15 sacks of plaster and spilling the contents. However, nothing was taken, police said. Entry was gained by removing a sheet of plywood covering a window.

Mrs. Ernest Montgomery, 2130 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., told officers Sunday at 9:20 p.m. a screen was removed from a bedroom window at her home while she was absent. Officers said it may have been an attempted entry, but nothing was taken.

A battery was stolen from an auto on the used car lot of Brown's Auto Sales of Pennsylvania Ave. sometime between 6 p. m. Friday and 10 a. m. Saturday, police said. John Muller, 623 Allison St., told police four hubcaps were stolen from his 1964 model auto while it was parked in front of his home sometime between 10:30 p.m. Friday and 8:45 a.m. Saturday.

Police said a vandal broke a 24-x-36-inch window Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. The report was filed at 10:17 p. m. William Kind of the YMCA told officers Saturday night an 18-x-18-inch window was broken in a warehouse on Walnut St. which he owns.

Scout Camporee Event Draws 500

Some 500 Boy Scouts from Columbiana Council participated in the annual spring camporee over the weekend at East Palestine City Park. The theme was "American Heritage."

Highlight of the camporee was a public program Saturday night attended by 1,000, at which C. Emory Miller of East Palestine, Council president, and Bennett Taylor of Lisbon, scout executive, were the principal speakers.

James Lynch, a member of East Palestine City Council, gave the welcome and Roy Blackburn of East Palestine was master of ceremonies.

Some 400 visited displays of historical items Saturday afternoon.

With temperatures soaring, the park pool was opened for a swimming session for the campers Saturday afternoon.

91 Beaver Farmers Enroll In Wheat Plan

BEAVER — Glenn Campbell, chairman of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today 91 farmers signed for the 1964 voluntary wheat program.

Campbell said some 805 were eligible for the program. However, many planted no wheat, while others planted over their allotment, he said.

No Crab Grass Here!

Undersea Home Offers Comfort

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Women who have been asking what the home of the future will be like might consider a more likely question: where will it be — on land, sea or in the air.

For all we know, instead of heckling the man of the house to mow the grass, we may be asking him at an underwater retreat to please get busy and clear up those seashells and weed the coral — it's scratching our newest Paris - designed skin-diving suit.

An underwater home may not be so far fetched as visitors to the New York World's Fair may feel when they encuonter such exhibits as Futurama.

The modern aqua home, space - wheeled vehicles, aquacopters, three - legged houses in the Antarctic and cities built in craters with people living on the side of cliffs may have been some designer's brainstorm, but some of these ideas have begun to happen.

An article, "At Home in the Sea," in the recent issue of National Geographic Magazine tells about five French oceanauts who lived for a month in a submerged colony on a Red Sea reef. What's more, the wife of Capt. Jacques-Yves Cousteau, author of the article, dropped down to Starfish House to spend a week with her husband.

THE HOUSE consists of four arms with kitchen, laboratory, dark room, lavatory, sleeping quarters, living and dining room with showers beneath which is a sharkproof grille. The house on five stilts, 36 feet below in the Red Sea was filled with compressed air by a hose.

Entertainment? They have that too. The group turns off inside lights, put on outside lamps and watches the piscatorial delights. They were spellbound as a thick school of sardinellas came into view and executed a dance with the precision of the Rockettes, writes Capt. Cousteau.

His wife, Simone, wore the latest foam-rubber diving tunic designed by a fashionable Paris couturier. She would don it and her aqua lung to take an evening "stroll" with some of the oceanauts outside the station. They'd take off from an open sea hatch, protected by the steel grille enclosure from sneak shark attacks.

Other structures made up a colony — a diving saucer's hangar on stilts, tool sheds for underwater gear, a deep cabin and a research ship.

Though this was a research project, it could be that Americans would take to an undersea weekend villa like fish. Skin diving is a popular sport now and we are always restless to explore new ideas.

The restless urge was wittily explained recently at a conference of the National Society of Interior Designers by Russell Lynes, author of "The Domesticated Americans," "The Tastemakers" and other books.

AMERICANS, he says, are as "mobile as wheels, ambition and an almost unlimited expanse of land. . .can make us. To move is as natural to Americans as maintaining roots is to Europeans," he told the group.

He points out that our lingo proves our restlessness as we talk about "people going places," admire a man who "makes it under his own steam" and consider it a failure "to stand still." It is characteristic, he said, that "in England a man stands for Parliament; in America he runs for the Senate."

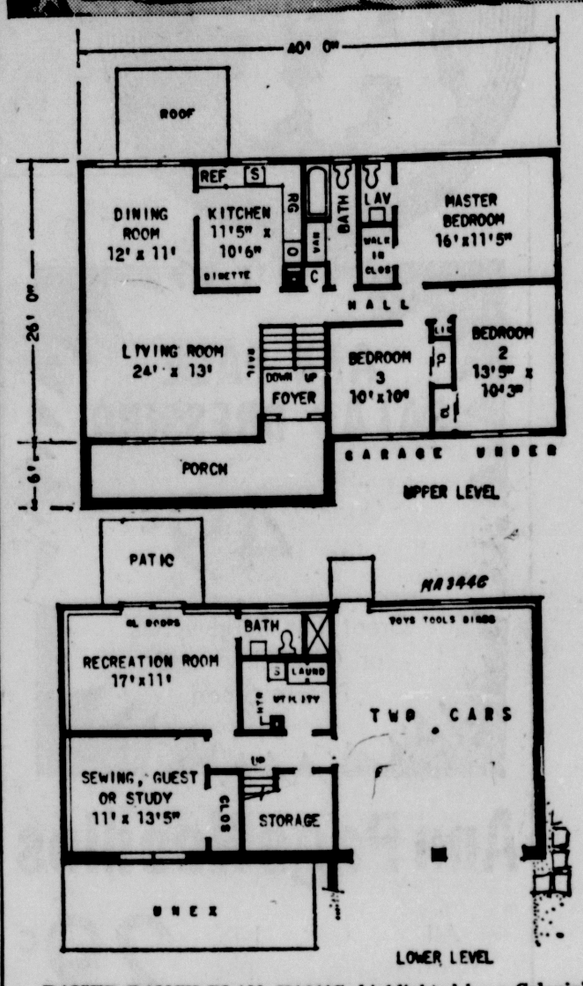

We Americans admire restlessness when we think it is aimed in some useful direction, he said. We are always thinking of ways to make a good life better. And the house is "going to become more of a recreation center than it is even now. . ."

He told the design group that "designers will need a wealth of imagination to create an environment that will contain our mobility without restraining it . . . ."

Well maybe the answer lies in providing the vehicles that will take us above, below and wherever.

Our urge to move on and around is one reason for the success of the mobile - style home, the cruiser on water and the second home, anywhere. Lots of women have marveled at the comfort that exists in nuclear submarines; many would move to outer space at the drop of a toy space gun. And just look how the West was won in covered wagons.

RAISED RANCH PLAN, HA344C, highlighted by a Colonial exterior, offers a six-room living level. The lower level includes two more rooms and a stall shower bathroom, plus two-car garage. A lavatory for the masterbedroom is another plus. Architect is Lester Cohen, Room 704, 48 W. 48 St., New York, N. Y., 10036. The plan has 1,236 square feet on the living level.

2-Story Homes Remain Highly Popular In U.S.

Despite the introduction of many new home plans since World War II, two-story houses continue to be highly popular throughout the United States, says the Institute of Home Designers.

It points out that the convenience, economy of construction, maximum of space per dollar, and suitability for a wide variety of building plots, all help to keep the standard two-story designs high in public preference.

"The experience of the past twenty years shows that there was a logical reason for prewar houses to be built as they were, and that the day-by-day living experiences of millions of people which went into the making of those houses cannot be discarded lightly," it says.

"Two-story designs offer definite advantages. The two-story house is often favored by young families with small children, because it provides a definite separation between the living and sleeping areas and enables all the family to sleep on one floor.

The two-story house is also favored by older couples who often seek more living space than can be provided by a one-story house on an ordinary building plot.

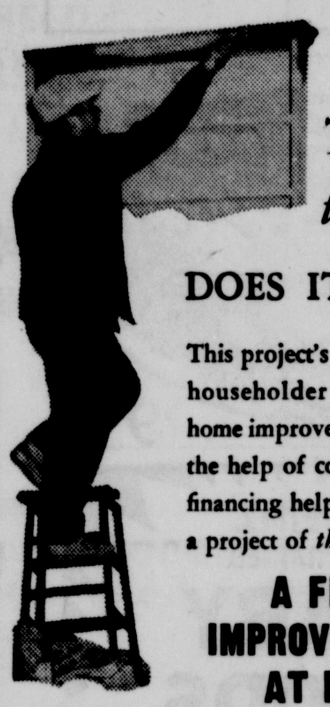

"In either event, home-owners prefer to get maximum living space for each dollar spent, especially if they have a full basement which provides highly-desirable storage, workshop and laundry space, and a sizable area for family recreation.

"Just as time-tested designs continue to be tops in popularity, many older features of houses continue to be approved by modern home-owners.

Among these features are the clothes chutes which enable housewives to send soiled clothing, sheets and bed and table linens down to the basement laundry areas; the wood-burning fireplace which provides cheer and warmth on cold days; the outside direct exit from the basement to the outdoors, covered with a durable metal hatchway, which is water-tight and intruder-proof; and the pantry area in or near the kitchen for the storage of staples and canned goods.

"The need for the hatchway and pantry is in fact greater today than ever before," the institute comments.

At the peak of the harvest season, 3,000 trucks and cars roll along the Aleppo-Raqqah Road in Syria, daily.

May Seen '64 Peak In Steel

CLEVELAND (AP) — Shipment of about 7.5 million tons of steel in May will be a peak month for 1964 and the figure will decline less than five per cent in June, Steel magazine said today.

The magazine estimated that production in June would run between 70 and 75 per cent of capacity. This week's output will total about 2,510,000 ingot tons, or about the same as last week, it added.

Last year, shipments for May totaled 8.1 million tons because "users were hedging heavily against the threat of a steel strike," Steel said. "This year, almost all of the steel shipped is going directing into consumption."

Automotive orders have fallen off because firms have completed most of their advance ordering for the 1964 model run, the metalworking weekly reported. But the slack has been taken up by increased orders in construction, machine tools, appliances, earthmoving equipment, railroads, railroad car builders and service centers.

Demand for hot and cold rolled carbon sheets remains strong, steel said. "Heavy plates. . . are so hard to get in Chicago and Pittsburgh that buyers are paying stiff freight penalties to get them shipped from eastern mills that can promise faster deliveries."

Steel said other products doing well include hot rolled bars, wide flange beams, standard structurals, high strength steels, tin plate, electrical steels galvanized sheets, reinforcing bars, wire mesh and bearing piles.

Paint, 'Wood' And Tool

More Products Offered For House Care Market

By ANDY LANG

What's new on the market?

THE PRODUCT — A man-made material that looks and cuts like wood, but is incombustible, does not conduct electricity and is not affected by wood and rot. Production capacity presently limits its use as siding to the southern part of the country, but it soon will be available nationally and later will be made for many other home uses as well as for siding.

THE MANUFACTURER'S CLAIM — That this material, a combination of processed wood, asbestos fibers and cement, is preshrunk and primed before it leaves the factory, can be painted with latex or oil-based paints, can be nailed with standard siding nails without predrilling holes and will not split because it has no grain or knots.

THE PRODUCT — A new exterior latex paint designed to do away with the priming and etching of bare galvanized gutters, downspouts and eaves.

THE MANUFACTURER'S CLAIM — That the painting of bare galvanized materials can be completed in one day, since the latex acts as its own primer and can be recoated within an hour; that the new paint acts equally well on aluminum; and that the only preparation necessary is to be certain that any protective layer of oil put on the galvanized steel or aluminum by the manufacturer is thoroughly wiped off.

THE MANUFACTURER'S CLAIM — That this tool, which bears some resemblance to a pair of pliers, combines a wire cutter, a wire stripper, a terminal crimper and bolt slicer; that the wire cutter is situated near the tip, making it easy to cut wire in cramped quarters; that a bolt is screwed into the proper-size hole to the desired length, after which only a moderate amount of hand pressure is applied, producing a clean cut without the usual burrs.

THE MANUFACTURER'S CLAIM — That this varnish has a stretching ingredient which seals out dirt and moisture while protecting it against the heaviest traffic and abrasive abuse; that it will not be harmed by soaps, alcohols, fruit juices or even boiling liquids; that it prevents water spotting and rings; and that it drys in two hours.

West German Republic Marks 15th Anniversary

BONN, Germany (AP) — Though it's not celebrated as the national holiday, the weekend marked the 15th anniversary of the West German republic.

It's not a national day because there is no single German nation. Five months after the proclamation of the Federal (West German) Republic, the Communists in the East proclaimed their own "German Democratic Republic," comprising a third of the land and a fourth of the population left after World War II.

Both republics still endure side by side, under virtually the same leadership that founded them. They have little human contact now, though they carry on a flourishing trade.

Between them is the Iron Curtain: 863 miles of border, guarded on the Communist side by barbed wire, tall wooden watchtowers, mine-sown strips of plowed land, and police.

Both sides say they want reunification. Neither is willing to do anything about it on terms the other will accept.

Just 15 years ago Parliament ratified the constitution, carefully called the Basic Law because constitution sounded too permanent. Since then Bonn, a small university city on the Rhine, has boomed into a major governmental center, but it is still officially a provisional capital pending a return to Berlin.

In 1949 West Germany was powerless. It had no army, and after two terrible defeats in a generation many Germans did not want one.

Now it has the strongest land force in Western Europe and is an equal partner in the Atlantic Alliance.

Today the beauty of West Germany's new buildings is often questioned, but nobody denies there are plenty of them. Traces of war damage are hard to find.

Grading Termed Vital For Home's Drainage System

Most home-planners fail to give enough time and thought to the placement of their house on their lot, and to how the ground around it will be graded, says the Institute of Home Designers.

It points out that the finished grade will greatly affect the appearance of the house and also the drainage of the lot.

If the earth slopes away from the house on all sides, less water pressure will be built up against the foundation after heavy rains and there will be less danger of seepage into the basement.

An ideal grading pattern is to have the ground slope up to about one foot below the top of the foundation in the front, and to grade downward along the side and back so that excess rain water will flow toward the rear of the lot.

When this grading pattern is followed, the rear patio will be about three steps down from the first floor, sufficiently low to keep snow from piling up against the kitchen door in winter.

Homeowner Can Avoid Dampness In Older House

The drastic change in building procedures, plus the fact that most older houses were built upon more or less high ground, leaves the average new house either on low ground or built upon concrete slabs or upon shallow foundations with crawl - spaces taking the place of full cellars.

Providing that all necessary precautions are taken by the builder, there is nothing wrong with houses on low ground or houses built over crawl-spaces. Unfortunately builders do not always take the required precautions, and as a result many a new house is a damp one.

We would add that a damp house is not only unhealthy, but is also subject to rapid deterioration.

The person who buys a house which is obviously lower than adjoining houses can be sure that the plot upon which the house is built is the last and most undesirable of all the plots the builder has to sell. If it were otherwise, the builder would have built upon that lot at the same time as he built upon his higher ground.

Now, providing that a house is bought and found to be damp there are several methods available which will aid in decreasing the dampness.

The first is the establishing of a firm lawn which will shed water away from the house foundation.

The second is the building of a barrier of some kind which will prevent the surface water from adjoining plots coming over on your low property. This is a perfectly legal procedure.

The third method is the waterproofing of the basement or crawl - space so as to prevent the penetration of water through the foundation walls. There are several good and substantial products available for this use.

The fourth method is the installation of a sump pump which will get rid of any basement or crawl-space water.

The fifth method is to provide ample ventilation beneath the house so as to take advantage of evaporation.

Safer, Brighter

Rumpus Room Site Seen Best In Rear Basement

Where is the best place for a basement rumpus room? According to the Institute of Home Designers, most home - owners prefer to have their recreation room in the rear of the basement.

The best traffic pattern is a triangle between recreation room, patio and kitchen. The institute points out that when the recreation room is in the rear, it is easier to provide a direct exit to the outdoors so that children and other occupants can reach safety in half a minute or less in case of fire or other emergency.

The usual grading of a house makes it possible to place long, shallow windows in the rear to provide adequate light for the play areas.

A rear recreation room also enables home-owners to entertain, to play radios and phonographs, and listen to their TV sets as late as they wish without fear that their noise will be heard all over the neighborhood.

When a recreation room is placed in the rear, workshop and storage areas can be located in the front. These do not require as much natural light, since the workshop is generally used at night when Dad is home from work, and windows are not generally needed for the storage room.

In the ideal recreation room arrangement, space for a passageway is provided so that both the workshop and storage area can be easily reached from the basement door to the outside.

When the basement exit with its all - steel hatchway covering the steps to the grade is centrally located, it will serve all basement areas to maximum advantage and will make it easy to bring equipment from all the areas in and out.

Celebrezze's Plaque Becomes Lost In Mail

CLEVELAND (AP)—An inscribed plaque John Carroll University was to have given to Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze as its "Alumni Man of the Year" never arrived. It got lost in the mail.

"I'm glad he's not postmaster general," The very Rev. Hugh E. Dunn, S. J., university president, quipped Sunday in explaining what happened to the plaque. "This would really be embarrassing."

Coordinator Slated

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Development Director George Wilson says his department will name a fulltime regional coordinator to work in the southeastern Ohio area slated for an economic improvement program.

Ex-Legislator Dies

HYATSVILLE, Md. (AP) — T. V. Smith, 74, former Democratic representative in Congress from Illinois and onetime college professor, died Sunday. A native of Blanket, Tex., he taught at the University of Chicago and Syracuse University.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Don't throw away the ends of that loaf of bread:

Wrap the ends up in their own individual bread wrapper and put them in your freezer. Since they are from your favorite brand of bread, they make the best hamburger buns you can buy! They are especially good for weight - watchers because they are only half-as-thick as a regular hamburger bun, yet the baked brown ends prevent the juice of the hamburgers from seeping through.

From this day on I will never throw a heel away. Better yet, when I open the bread wrapper, I stick the heel in a plastic bag in my freezer right away.

And thanks, Juanita.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I bought a square piece of peg board from my local contractor supply store and fitted it into the end of my clothes closet. I have a sliding door type.

These could also be fitted on the inside of any regular closet door.

I filled the holes of the peg board with various sized books and presto . . . I have a marvelous storage for costume jewelry, necklaces, bracelets, etc.

No more tangles in a drawer and I can choose one in a jiffy.

ONE OF YOUR FANS.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: When kissing away the hurt from a pinched finger, or what have you, on my 2-year-old, I wait five or ten seconds and pretend to find the hurt, so that when I do kiss it, the pain has actually gone.

MARY G.

DEAR HELOISE: When you write your grocery list UNDERLINE the item itself. (For instance, three cans of PEACHES, underline PEACHES, etc.) This saves time and confusion when doing that shopping.

ERMAL COLLINS.

DEAR HELOISE: I preheat my clothes dryer before putting in my starched pieces. I find that the cold, wet clothing does not strike against the warm dryer as much as they do a cold dryer, thus eliminating the loss of some of the starch.

P.R.

DEAR HELOISE: When I need pieces of bacon to cook with my food, I do not take out a whole strip of bacon and dice it. Instead, I cut the fat end off as many slices as I need, and still have the slices of bacon to cook for breakfast.

Besides, the resulting shorter strips fit into the frying pan better.

EULALIE.

DEAR HELOISE: Your famous nylon net again!

Have you ever tried making a wind scarf?

Just cut the net as large as you want, fold it back and forth to make pleats, sew a ribbon tie on each end, steam press, and it's ready to wear.

They make lovely gifts, too.

E.H.

DEAR HELOISE: Because my wife is not able to walk up and down the stairs, I do the laundry.

Our washing machine is a front loading washer so I made sacks of nylon mesh about 24x30 inches, put one sheet in each bag and tied the loose ends.

I learned to put the sheets in a case with a bath towel and then run them through the regular cycle, and, believe me, there is no wadding or twisting and each sheet turns out cleaner and less wrinkled than I ever saw before!

Your nylon mesh is wonderful. Thanks to you for your daily visit in our home via your column.

BUD WHITMER.

And thank you, Mr. Whitmer. Who ever would have thought of that one but you?

HELOISE.

Difference In Values The Way She Sees It

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The teenage boy was charged with a felony.

Judge Carl C. Durrance called the mother before him and inquired whether she had gotten her son an attorney. "No," she said.

Assistant Public Defender Robert Rawlins told Judge Durrance the woman had told him she could afford only $25 for an attorney.

"Well, I don't think you can get an attorney for $25," the judge said. He directed the public defender to represent the boy. The boy was returned to jail to await trial.

The mother walked out of the courthouse, climbed into an air conditioned 1964 model car and drove away.

Conscience Started To Bother Him Maybe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Noting a broken vent window in his parked car, Dr. Sygmond Telerski investigated. He found his medical bag's contents on the floor and papers from the glove compartment scattered.

But nothing seemed to be missing. Then he found a note: "Sorry, changed my mind. I could never feel right again. There is nothing gone."

Ohio's New Quads Get Names Of 4 Apostles

The identical boys were named Sunday by the proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Mincey—already the parents of four other boys and a girl.

The quads and their 39-year-old mother Willie Mae were reported in good condition. The sons are in incubators and are expected to stay in the hospital until they weigh five pounds each.

Lisbon Group Sets Meeting

The auxiliary of the Lisbon Eagles Lodge will meet Tuesday night at 8 at the aerie on E. Chestnut St.

The POW WOW Club, all members of the 1954 class of David Anderson High School, met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Don Morris of Jerome St.

The evening was spent making name cards in preparation for the class reunion dinner party scheduled for Saturday, June 20, at the McKinley Room of the VFW.

Hostess for the next meeting Thursday, June 25, will be Mrs. Jud McCamon of Adams Rd.

Mrs. A. G. Cobourn of Canfield and Mrs. Gail Wallace of Akron were guests of the Sunshine Club, which met Thursday with Mrs. Clyde Hadley of Guilford Lake for a coverdish dinner.

Roll call response was "What I Would Do If 'The Millionaire' knocked at my door."

"What You Want in Your Dream Home" was the subject of a panel discussion.

The club will meet Thursday, June 18, with Mrs. John Halverstadt of Elkton Rd.

3 Burgettstown Men Killed In Car Crashes

Three Burgettstown men were killed in two weekend traffic crashes.

Charles Hamilton, 24, and Harold Parente, 18, were killed Saturday night when their convertible ran off a curve on Legislative Route 62180 just outside the Washington County community, hit guard rails and crashed into a utility pole.

Joseph M. Bertovich, 28, of Burgettstown R. D. 3 died when a car hit a bridge abutment early Sunday south of Westland, Pa. The driver, Clifford Snedeker, 35, of Southview, and two other passengers were hurt in the mishap on Legislative Route 62188.

Elks Will Initiate 6 In Session Thursday

A class of six candidates will be initiated at the regular meeting of Elks Lodge 258 Thursday night with Edward B. Massey, exalted ruler, in charge.

The indoctrination program for the candidates, their wives and sponsors was held Saturday night, consisting of colored slides and recording of the history, aims and current program of the order. Lodge officers, with their wives, also attended and gave the local Elks history. A dance followed.

A cribbage tournament will be conducted tonight at 8 with over 20 contestants expected. Lunch will follow.

Man Given Probation For Obscene Pictures

A man identified as Burnice Southall of East Liverpool was placed on two years' probation in U. S. District Court at Cleveland Friday on a charge of mailing obscene pictures to himself.

Southall had pleaded guilty to the charge April 17.

The federal affidavit charged that Southall last Dec. 22, using the alias Tom Jones, mailed an envelope containing obscene pictures at Cartas, Mexico, addressed to himself at East Liverpool.

3 Get Prizes At Cards As Elkton Club Meets

Three were awarded prizes at 500 when the Jolly Eight Club met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Sidney Scroggs of Elkton.

They were Mrs. Ralph Moore, Mrs. Haazel Lee and Mrs. Lloyd Neville, a guest. Mrs. John Struthoff will be the next hostess.

Mrs. John Deangelo visited Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. San Konshak.

Deer Dies After Running Wild In Ambridge Store

AMBRIDGE — A deer ran wild in a downtown furniture store Saturday after diving through a display window, then invaded a feed store almost two blocks away, where it died of apparent loss of blood from its injuries.

The deer first was seen on Merchant St., heart of the business area, and police said it may have swum across the Ohio River from a wooded area.

Chased by shoppers, the big buck plunged through a plate glass window at Olbum's Furniture Store and then rampaged through the building.

The deer ran out the back door and entered the Wall Feed Store via a loading ramp. Police cornered the animal, behind a screen and called a game warden, but the deer died shortly afterward from apparent loss of blood from cuts suffered on glass.

Traveling Project Set At West Point Grange

WEST POINT — The West Point Grange will receive the "traveling tools" project from Yellow Creek Grange at its next meeting Friday, June 15, at 8:30 p. m.

A chocolate cupcake baking contest marked the meeting Friday night, at which Ralph Cusick, master, presided. Winners in the Subordinate Grange contest were: Mrs. Francis Brickner, first; Mrs. Phillip Carnes, second, and Mrs. William Martin, third. In the Juvenile Grange contest, the inners were Miss Betty Flory, first, Miss Patty Brickner, second, and Fred Brickner, third.

A Memorial Day program was presented under the direction of Mrs. D. Lloyd Smith. Participants included Mrs. Carnes and Mrs. Brickner, who gave readings. Songs and a word game also were included. Refreshments were served.

Ohio's New Quads Get Names Of 4 Apostles

The identical boys were named Sunday by the proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Mincey—already the parents of four other boys and a girl.

The quads and their 39-year-old mother Willie Mae were reported in good condition. The sons are in incubators and are expected to stay in the hospital until they weigh five pounds each.

Lisbon Group Sets Meeting

The auxiliary of the Lisbon Eagles Lodge will meet Tuesday night at 8 at the aerie on E. Chestnut St.

The POW WOW Club, all members of the 1954 class of David Anderson High School, met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Don Morris of Jerome St.

The evening was spent making name cards in preparation for the class reunion dinner party scheduled for Saturday, June 20, at the McKinley Room of the VFW.

Hostess for the next meeting Thursday, June 25, will be Mrs. Jud McCamon of Adams Rd.

Mrs. A. G. Cobourn of Canfield and Mrs. Gail Wallace of Akron were guests of the Sunshine Club, which met Thursday with Mrs. Clyde Hadley of Guilford Lake for a coverdish dinner.

Roll call response was "What I Would Do If 'The Millionaire' knocked at my door."

"What You Want in Your Dream Home" was the subject of a panel discussion.

The club will meet Thursday, June 18, with Mrs. John Halverstadt of Elkton Rd.

3 Burgettstown Men Killed In Car Crashes

Three Burgettstown men were killed in two weekend traffic crashes.

Charles Hamilton, 24, and Harold Parente, 18, were killed Saturday night when their convertible ran off a curve on Legislative Route 62180 just outside the Washington County community, hit guard rails and crashed into a utility pole.

Joseph M. Bertovich, 28, of Burgettstown R. D. 3 died when a car hit a bridge abutment early Sunday south of Westland, Pa. The driver, Clifford Snedeker, 35, of Southview, and two other passengers were hurt in the mishap on Legislative Route 62188.

Elks Will Initiate 6 In Session Thursday

A class of six candidates will be initiated at the regular meeting of Elks Lodge 258 Thursday night with Edward B. Massey, exalted ruler, in charge.

The indoctrination program for the candidates, their wives and sponsors was held Saturday night, consisting of colored slides and recording of the history, aims and current program of the order. Lodge officers, with their wives, also attended and gave the local Elks history. A dance followed.

A cribbage tournament will be conducted tonight at 8 with over 20 contestants expected. Lunch will follow.

Man Given Probation For Obscene Pictures

A man identified as Burnice Southall of East Liverpool was placed on two years' probation in U. S. District Court at Cleveland Friday on a charge of mailing obscene pictures to himself.

Southall had pleaded guilty to the charge April 17.

The federal affidavit charged that Southall last Dec. 22, using the alias Tom Jones, mailed an envelope containing obscene pictures at Cartas, Mexico, addressed to himself at East Liverpool.

3 Get Prizes At Cards As Elkton Club Meets

Three were awarded prizes at 500 when the Jolly Eight Club met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Sidney Scroggs of Elkton.

They were Mrs. Ralph Moore, Mrs. Haazel Lee and Mrs. Lloyd Neville, a guest. Mrs. John Struthoff will be the next hostess.

Mrs. John Deangelo visited Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. San Konshak.

Deer Dies After Running Wild In Ambridge Store

AMBRIDGE — A deer ran wild in a downtown furniture store Saturday after diving through a display window, then invaded a feed store almost two blocks away, where it died of apparent loss of blood from its injuries.

The deer first was seen on Merchant St., heart of the business area, and police said it may have swum across the Ohio River from a wooded area.

Chased by shoppers, the big buck plunged through a plate glass window at Olbum's Furniture Store and then rampaged through the building.

The deer ran out the back door and entered the Wall Feed Store via a loading ramp. Police cornered the animal, behind a screen and called a game warden, but the deer died shortly afterward from apparent loss of blood from cuts suffered on glass.

Traveling Project Set At West Point Grange

WEST POINT — The West Point Grange will receive the "traveling tools" project from Yellow Creek Grange at its next meeting Friday, June 15, at 8:30 p. m.

A chocolate cupcake baking contest marked the meeting Friday night, at which Ralph Cusick, master, presided. Winners in the Subordinate Grange contest were: Mrs. Francis Brickner, first; Mrs. Phillip Carnes, second, and Mrs. William Martin, third. In the Juvenile Grange contest, the inners were Miss Betty Flory, first, Miss Patty Brickner, second, and Fred Brickner, third.

A Memorial Day program was presented under the direction of Mrs. D. Lloyd Smith. Participants included Mrs. Carnes and Mrs. Brickner, who gave readings. Songs and a word game also were included. Refreshments were served.

OFF THE RECORD

"But why do you want another child?—I'm still in good condition."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent rust on my outdoor iron furniture?

A. By keeping the furniture well painted, you'll stave off rust. If you are beginning from scratch, coat the iron first with red lead or aluminum paint, after first removing every trace of rust with a wire brush, steel wool, or emery cloth. If you leave any rust on the iron under the paint, it will go on spreading. Apply two or three coats of ornamental paint.

Q. How can I do a more efficient job of driving thin brads into hard wood, when it is difficult to prevent the brads from bending?

A. Push the brad through a cork and then, placing the cork firmly against the hard wood, drive your brad. You can then pull the cork off over the head of the brad.

Q. How can I clear jelly that is made from fruit parings?

A. Strain the juice and boil with a freshly-broken eggshell before adding the sugar. The shell collects the sediment, which may then be easily removed with a spoon.

Q. How can I clean copper, brass, and pewter?

A. Apply a paste composed of equal parts of flour, vinegar, and salt. Let this remain on the metal for about an hour, then rub it off, and wash the metal with warm water before polishing.

Q. How can I remove the odor and flavor of onions from my cooking vessels?

A. By rubbing with celery leaves.

Junior Editors Quiz on GOVERNMENT

QUESTION: What is the job of the secretary of the treasury?

ANSWER: This government official is one of the most important men in Washington. He advises the President on the financial affairs of the nation and is head of the Treasury Department, which is housed in the Grecian-type building shown at the top of our picture. Another person in the Treasury Department is the Treasurer of the United States, whose office receives all money paid in to the government, takes care of it and pays government expenses. This office also issues and redeems paper money.

Under the secretary of the treasury are various assistant and under secretaries who handle other jobs of the Treasury Department. An assistant secretary is in charge of the U. S. Secret Service, which guards currency, fights counterfeiters and guards the President and his family. An assistant secretary also heads the Bureau of Customs, the Bureau of Narcotics and the important U. S. Coast Guard. Other Secretaries handle the Office of International Finance, Internal Revenue Service, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Bureau of the Mint. Started in 1789 with only five employees, the Treasury Department now employs more than 80,000.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look closely at any paper bill and you will see its is signed both by the Secretary of the Treasury (right side) and the Treasurer of the United States (left side.) Several women have served in this last office and made splendid records.

Attitude Can Determine Your Weight

Two years ago a young homemaker, age 30, who was 30 pounds above her desirable weight, wrote:

Ida Jean Kain

"I often think of joining the weight problem instead of trying to lick it. One young woman I know did just that. She had tried all sorts of diets. Finally she decided to buy a whole new wardrobe in her larger size and be content with her lot.

"I'm tempted to follow that course myself. It's easier to remain in a rut than to climb out of it. And it's easier to stay with a fixed, fattening pattern of eating than to create a new, slimming one.

"I REALIZE this burden of fat makes me look and feel years older than my birthdays, but I'm still not willing to put forth the effort to cope with my weight. Any encouraging words from you would be greatly appreciated," she concluded.

Well, I tried to dissuade her from graduating to a larger size. I never heard from this reader again and I have often wondered which course she took and what size she wears now.

Joing the problem is no solution. It's not that simple. Your weight does not hold steady, even at a higher level. It doesn't take much over-indulgence to gain three or five pounds in a year. Also, with each passing decade nature uses five to seven per cent less fuel to run the human powerplant. So, on the same food habits, weight tends to go up. As the years go by it's easier to gain and harder to lose.

Other procrastinators write: "If only I had someone to force me to change my ways of eating and slim down!"

This too is wishful thinking. Do you honestly believe the incentive to take action can come from someone else? It is not possible to borrow motivation. Boiled down, motiviation is wanting to do something. Desire is the motivating force, but it must be directed and acted upon.

THE START is to get a new concept of yourself in mind — a new idea of yourself and of your life. Understand that until you gain this new concept it won't seem worth the while to stop overeating and to find enjoyable exercise.

Slimming is at least 90 per cent attitude. Your attitude determines your actions. When you regard calorie curbing as a personal restriction that takes the joy out of living — it does. But if you change your point of view and look upon the extra pounds as standing in the way of your looking and feeling young and having fun — suddenly you want to take action. Heart's desire is a thing of the spirit. The power of an attitude is tremendous.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I restore the nap on velvet?

A. If any portion of a velvet dress is crushed, hold that part over a wide basin of hot water, placing the wrong side next to the water. The pile will be restored.

Q. What can I do about bottles that have become badly discolored inside?

A. Try filling with water and borax, then allow to stand awhile. If this method does not clean them to your satisfaction, add broken egg shells or BB-shot to the borax solution, then shake the whole business well.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Child Shouldn't Sleep With Parents

If you had the facts you probably would be amazed at the number of children from two to six or much older, even among your acquaintances, who sleep with one or both parents. The practice begins easily. The youngster, teething or otherwise physically uncomfortable or eager for attention, is taken into bed with his mother or father or both.

Dr. Garry Myers

After a while he gets to sleep that way out of habit. The hard part comes when an effort is made to break the habit.

Just let the mother or father try to get the child to sleep in his own bed and the crying is long, loud and ear-piercing.

SOMETIMES THE mother, dreading that he might wake up other members of the family, lets him have his way. The longer the practice continues the harder it is for him to sleep in his own bed.

Often parents resolve to let him cry it out, but after half an hour or more of this, they succomb. The longer he has to cry to get his way, it seems, the more sure he is to hold out longer the next time.

One mother writes, for example: "We have a boy, four, and another, a year old. About three years ago, we lived in a house with a faulty heating system and it got quite cold at night. Our four-year-old, who was then only a baby, caught colds, one right after the other, so we started putting him in our bed at night to keep him warm.

"When we moved into a house that was warmer, he refused to sleep in his own bed.

"We have two bedrooms. One for our two boys and one for us. The baby sleeps in his own crib in that room every night and has ever since he was born.

"WE BOUGHT the older boy a new twin-size bed and tried to fix the bedroom the way we thought two little boys would like it. I leave a night light turned on in their room all night. We tried to get him to sleep in his own bed from the start when we moved here but he won't stay in that room.

"He screams and cries and runs into our room as soon as we leave the room. I've asked him if he is afraid of something or the dark, but he says 'no,' that he just doesn't want to sleep in his bed all by himself.

"We never close the bedroom doors, so that won't scare him. We have paddled him, taken away privileges, everything. It does no good. We have let him cry but he'll cry two hours and not give up.

"We always end up letting him come in our bed because we're afraid he's disturbing the neighbors or he wakes our baby. It's been three years since my husband and I have had our bedroom to ourselves."

My reply in part.

If you're going to end up by letting the boy sleep with you anyway, don't have him go through a crying spell. But if you mean to train him to stay in his own bedroom with the light on and his baby brother there, then keep him in his own room.

PADDLE HIM soundly if he doesn't stay there, allow no exceptions. You may have to do it again and again for the first few nights and he may cry for several hours. Of course, he may disturb the neighbors but he disturbs them now anyway. Settle the whole business right now.

I assume your bedroom is not far from his. You could talk to him from there. It would not hurt for one of you, particularly Dad, to go to his open door to reassure him, but draw the line when he wants to come to your bed.

Don't start to train him until you know that you both are resolved to see it through. To have him crying a long time and then give up only makes it harder for him and prolongs the problem.

My bulletins, "Self-Reliance" and "Sleep Problems with Children," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Female cones of the bristlecone pine are purple and have sharply bristled scales, giving the species its common name.

As the years go by it's easier to gain and harder to lose.

Other procrastinators write: "If only I had someone to force me to change my ways of eating and slim down!"

This too is wishful thinking. Do you honestly believe the incentive to take action can come from someone else? It is not possible to borrow motivation. Boiled down, motiviation is wanting to do something. Desire is the motivating force, but it must be directed and acted upon.

THE START is to get a new concept of yourself in mind — a new idea of yourself and of your life. Understand that until you gain this new concept it won't seem worth the while to stop overeating and to find enjoyable exercise.

Slimming is at least 90 per cent attitude. Your attitude determines your actions. When you regard calorie curbing as a personal restriction that takes the joy out of living — it does. But if you change your point of view and look upon the extra pounds as standing in the way of your looking and feeling young and having fun — suddenly you want to take action. Heart's desire is a thing of the spirit. The power of an attitude is tremendous.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I restore the nap on velvet?

A. If any portion of a velvet dress is crushed, hold that part over a wide basin of hot water, placing the wrong side next to the water. The pile will be restored.

Q. What can I do about bottles that have become badly discolored inside?

A. Try filling with water and borax, then allow to stand awhile. If this method does not clean them to your satisfaction, add broken egg shells or BB-shot to the borax solution, then shake the whole business well.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Child Shouldn't Sleep With Parents

If you had the facts you probably would be amazed at the number of children from two to six or much older, even among your acquaintances, who sleep with one or both parents. The practice begins easily. The youngster, teething or otherwise physically uncomfortable or eager for attention, is taken into bed with his mother or father or both.

Dr. Garry Myers

After a while he gets to sleep that way out of habit. The hard part comes when an effort is made to break the habit.

Just let the mother or father try to get the child to sleep in his own bed and the crying is long, loud and ear-piercing.

SOMETIMES THE mother, dreading that he might wake up other members of the family, lets him have his way. The longer the practice continues the harder it is for him to sleep in his own bed.

Often parents resolve to let him cry it out, but after half an hour or more of this, they succomb. The longer he has to cry to get his way, it seems, the more sure he is to hold out longer the next time.

One mother writes, for example: "We have a boy, four, and another, a year old. About three years ago, we lived in a house with a faulty heating system and it got quite cold at night. Our four-year-old, who was then only a baby, caught colds, one right after the other, so we started putting him in our bed at night to keep him warm.

"When we moved into a house that was warmer, he refused to sleep in his own bed.

"We have two bedrooms. One for our two boys and one for us. The baby sleeps in his own crib in that room every night and has ever since he was born.

"WE BOUGHT the older boy a new twin-size bed and tried to fix the bedroom the way we thought two little boys would like it. I leave a night light turned on in their room all night. We tried to get him to sleep in his own bed from the start when we moved here but he won't stay in that room.

"He screams and cries and runs into our room as soon as we leave the room. I've asked him if he is afraid of something or the dark, but he says 'no,' that he just doesn't want to sleep in his bed all by himself.

"We never close the bedroom doors, so that won't scare him. We have paddled him, taken away privileges, everything. It does no good. We have let him cry but he'll cry two hours and not give up.

"We always end up letting him come in our bed because we're afraid he's disturbing the neighbors or he wakes our baby. It's been three years since my husband and I have had our bedroom to ourselves."

My reply in part.

If you're going to end up by letting the boy sleep with you anyway, don't have him go through a crying spell. But if you mean to train him to stay in his own bedroom with the light on and his baby brother there, then keep him in his own room.

PADDLE HIM soundly if he doesn't stay there, allow no exceptions. You may have to do it again and again for the first few nights and he may cry for several hours. Of course, he may disturb the neighbors but he disturbs them now anyway. Settle the whole business right now.

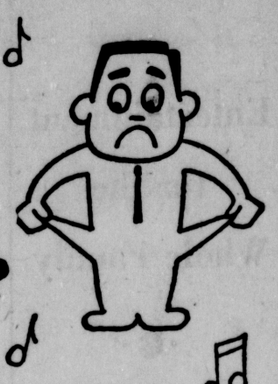

I assume your bedroom is not far from his. You could talk to him from there. It would not hurt for one of you, particularly Dad, to go to his open door to reassure him, but draw the line when he wants to come to your bed.

Don't start to train him until you know that you both are resolved to see it through. To have him crying a long time and then give up only makes it harder for him and prolongs the problem.
